Rolph And Vandegrift Rebuked Before State Senate

CRITICISM OF SOLONS DRAWS FIRE

Sen. Inman Attacks Finance Director for Saying Probe "Lot of Hot Air"

ACTION IS DEFENDED

Upper House Refuses Today to Reconsider Abolishing of Morals Group

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 12.—(UP)—The state senate today heard two rebukes administered to Governor Rolph and his finance director, Rolfand A. Vandegrift, for their criticism of the legislature's failure to act on important problems before it.

Sen. J. M. Inman of Sacramento, chairman of the senate investigation committee, voiced the first attack, aimed particularly at Vandegrift's assertion that the probe was "a lot of hot air."

"It will be the policy of this committee and its chairman to ignore any personal attacks upon its members," Inman said. "The committee has a definite program which it proposes to follow to completion. It does not propose to include in personalities nor to embarrass individuals with personal gossip or innuendoes."

"Nor does the committee propose to permit its work to interfere in any degree with work in the senate. A complete understanding had been had with the senate upon that matter."

Sen. Arthur H. Breed of Oakland declared the senate "is progressing as fast as we can."

"The very nature of a bifurcated session, which I have always opposed, tends to slow up work of the session. We do not have the governor's budget before us yet, which means that all appropriation bills must be held up."

"I do not think that criticism of the senate, from sources high and low, has been justified."

Despite appeals from the Sacramento church federation and the local women's council, the upper house refused to reconsider their vote abolishing the senate public morals committee. The vote to table a reconsideration motion by

FRENCH PILOTS HOP OFF ON LONG TRIP

MARSEILLES, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Jean Mermoz, most famous of French airmail pilots, set off with a crew of four today to fly to Buenos Aires and back to Paris within a week, with four stops each way. Mermoz was accompanied by Assistant Pilot Captain Carretier; Navigator Captain Mailoux; Mechanic Jousse, and Radio Operator Manuel. Mermoz planned to fly from Marseilles to St. Louis, Senegal, across the Atlantic to Natal, Brazil, and from Natal in two stages to Buenos Aires. Mermoz had not received authorization from the French air ministry to fly across the Atlantic when he left here, but he took advantage of favorable weather for the start, believing that authorization would be forwarded from Paris.

FORMER U. S. C. WATER SAVING FOOTBALL STAR PLAN OFFERED HELD IN JAIL IN TWO BILLS

Jerry Craig is Accused of Plotting to Kill Wife; Denies Charges

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Police charges that he hired a pseudo-gunman in a plot to kill his wife were vigorously denied today by Gerald (Jerry) Craig, former football and world war hero.

Police arrested the former University of Southern California gridiron captain after a detective, representing himself as a down-at-the-heel gangster, reputedly arranged to conduct the assassination for $300.

Craig was confronted by his 40-year-old socially prominent wife, Ethel. He embraced her warmly. "Do you believe all this stuff about me?" he asked.

"Yes, I do," she replied. She choked with sobs and retired, leaving her husband to face questioners. He was charged with attempted murder, planned, police charged, in an attempt to gain control of a joint estate, valued at $90,000.

Spurred by details of the reputed death plot, Mrs. Craig said she had no intimation of anything so serious. She said she suspected her husband's affections were straying several weeks ago when she believed he was "interested in another woman." The incident passed off and she thought no more of it, she said. Mrs. Craig was at police headquarters, being advised of the charges, when her husband was taken into custody.

Engineers Trap
Detective Lieutenant Tom Bryan engineered the trap after police received information that Craig assertedly was seeking a professional killer. Affecting the dress and speech of an underworld mobster, Bryan said he visited Craig in the garage where he is employed as a foreman.

"I'm Buckley Bryan of Toledo, Ohio, and I want to go back east," the disguised operative said he introduced himself. "I understand

ASKS IMPEACHMENT OF TWO L. B. JUDGES

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Impeachment of two municipal judges of Long Beach was requested in a petition to the state assembly today.

Previously impeachment of Judge Wilber F. Downs had been asked by Fred B. Hawley, 1525 East First street, Long Beach. In a new petition Hawley asked also that Judge Charles D. Wallace, Long Beach, be impeached by the assembly.

In his petition Hawley alleged Judge Downs refused to grant him a jury trial and that Downs held a contract and a sub-contractor to be licensed by the state when in fact they were not licensed.

In asking impeachment of Judge Wallace, Hawley charged that jurist with authorizing the Golden State Bond and Mortgage company to execute a judgment against Hawley. He alleged he and Mrs. Hawley were evicted from their home at a time when Mrs. Hawley was seriously ill.

ESTIMATE STORM DAMAGE IN ORANGE COUNTY $2,000,000

Citrus Crop Losses Will Be Heaviest

Total of 185 Oil Derricks in County Down; Hundreds Given Work

TOLL OF DAMAGE from the spasmodic desert wind which struck Orange county with terrific intensity Tuesday night, rose to an estimated total of approximately $2,000,000 today as further damage was caused by the continued winds and more losses were reported.

A conservative estimate of the damage to citrus crops of the county, through fruit which was blown to the ground and that which was seared by the wind, was placed at approximately $1,500,000 today by those in touch with the situation.

The figures were based on an estimated fruit damage of 10 per cent and on last year's citrus returns in the county, not including packing and freight. Horticultural experts today were making an accurate check of the damage, which also was felt by citrus growers when the wind lashed foliage from the trees and when limbs were split.

Avocado growers in Orange county suffered serious fruit damage from the wind, estimated to greatly exceed the six tons blown from trees in the La Habra and Yorba Linda districts just a month ago, according to officials of the California Avocado Growers association. This week's damage was particularly severe in Santa Ana, Tustin, Orange, Fullerton, Whittier, Yorba Linda and the La Habra vicinities, it was reported. Growers this year have been receiving around 25 cents a pound for avocados.

185 Derricks Down
A total of 185 oil derricks was reported to have been tumbled to the ground by the high winds, including the Huntington Beach oil field and northern county fields. Loss in this field ran high, the figure being set conservatively at $370,000.

No further damage was reported

CLAIMS INSULL HAD HUGE SUM OF MONEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The Greek National Daily Herald, Greek language newspaper here, features an article asserting that Samuel Insull, fugitive Chicago utility magnate, arrived in Greece with $10,000,000 in $1000 bills.

The article quoted a customs agent who examined Insull's baggage when he arrived in Greece. Insull displayed reluctance when the agent asked to look into a small bag he had not permitted to leave his hand. Finally Insull handed it over and the agent found it tightly packed with $1000 bills, the article said.

The newspaper recorded this conversation:
Agent: You are fortunate in having this bag examined. Otherwise you would not be permitted to take it out of the country again.
"Insull: Don't worry. I am not going to take it out."

CHARLES W. MORSE CALLED BY DEATH

BATH, Me., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Charles W. Morse, 76, who once controlled a $60,000,000 shipping combine and 15 New York banks, died of pneumonia today at his family's homestead in this city, where he was born.

Morse had made his home here since he was discharged from the federal penitentiary in Atlanta in 1913 after serving a sentence for a bank conspiracy in New York.

He was a son of Benjamin W. Morse, founder of a towboat business on the Kennebec river, and was a graduate of Bowdoin college.

776,812 VETS RECEIVING AID AS CASUALTIES

Three Times Listed Number of Wounded Given Money Benefits

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The United States is paying direct money benefits to three times as many World war veterans as are listed as wounded casualties, according to General Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau.

Wounded casualties, according to war department figures, were 234,300. Veterans now receiving direct money benefits number 776,812, according to veteran bureau figures. Comparative figures cited by the bureau indicate Britain and France are paying one out of four of their wounded.

Director Hines has calculated that based upon the numbers reported dead or wounded, the annual expenditures per man are: Great Britain, $58; France, $51; United States, $268.

Based on the number mobilized, the figures per year per man are: United States, $180; Canada, $98.44; France, $34.89; Great Britain, $26.49; Germany, $22.38; Italy, $12.44.

"We are all proud that our government has been able to go so far in granting relief to our veterans, and the American people will make no complaint as to the cost of such relief, provided these expenditures go to those who are deserving," General Hines says.

However, he doubts whether the United States can continue to pay the bill if benefits expand in the future at their recent rate.

For veterans of all wars the government has spent a total of $15,370,000,000. The allied war debt is figured at $11,000,000,000. It is when veterans compare what they are receiving with these huge war loans, the repayment of which is uncertain, that they retort to critics of veteran expenditures that if the country can stand the loss of $11,000,000,000 in unpaid war debts, it can afford $1,900,000,000 for care of the survivors of all wars.

Fourteen years after the Civil war, which is comparable to the present date in connection with the World war, veterans were receiving $26,000,000 a year. Forty-two years later, when the peak expense was reached, they were receiving nine times as much. Fourteen years after the Spanish-American war, its veterans were receiving $3,900,000. In the following six years this leaped to $13,000,000, multiplying 28 times.

History repeats itself therefore, the present World war veteran outlay will expand in years to come.

BANDITS HOLD UP, ROB BANK IN OHIO

BEREA, O., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Two bandits held up the Commercial and Savings bank of Berea, a suburb of Cleveland, today and got $30,000.

In a gun battle with citizens as they sought to escape, one of the gunmen was wounded and captured. The other fled with the entire haul.

KREUGER AFFAIRS AGAIN DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Safeguarding against frauds such as led to the collapse of the worldwide financial enterprises of the late Ivar Kreuger were discussed today before a senate investigation committee.

Frank Altshuler, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange listing committee, said compulsory independent audit of stocks on the exchange probably would be required.

LIBBY HOLMAN PLANS BATTLE FOR MILLIONS

Torch Singer Will Carry Fight for Son's Fortune Into Court

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway torch singer, may see her multi-millionaire baby for the first time tomorrow if her son's condition continues to improve.

Physicians at the Pennsylvania hospital said today, the mother had not asked to have the child brought to her. Miss Holman occupies a suite on the seventh floor of the hospital. Her baby, potential heir to a large part of the $15,000,000 fortune left by Smith Reynolds, is being kept in an incubator a few rooms away.

Guarded by a uniformed policeman, the tiny child became the center of what may be one of the most bitterly contested fights for millions in the history of the nation's courts.

Circumstances—The will of the child's grandfather, R. J. Reynolds, the trust fund established for the baby's father in which no mention was made of possible widows, young Reynolds' two marriages, and the uncertain legal status of a posthumous child—conspired to produce a legal tangle in which the judicial minds of the country were at variance.

It is possible the United States supreme court may be called upon to determine how many of the Reynolds' tobacco millions will go to the baby.

The baby probably will be named Zachary Smith Reynolds, after his father who was killed six months ago at the Reynolds North Carolina estate.

Through her attorney, Miss Holman indicated she would battle for the entire estate—estimated at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000—for her son.

Other legal forces will be arrayed on the side of Ann Cannon Reynolds, first wife of Smith Reynolds, and her daughter, now two years old.

DENIES JEW PERMIT TO ADOPT CATHOLIC

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The plea of Mrs. Hugo Connor to adopt into her Jewish home a foundling designated a Catholic by the department of welfare was denied today by a court decision. Supreme Court Justice Charles J. Dodd refused Mrs. Connor's application for an order of mandamus compelling Welfare Commissioner Frank J. Taylor to turn over to her the baby she found on the porch of a relative last December 1.

The department, under an arbitrary system designating foundling children alternately Protestant, Catholic and Jewish, had designated the child a Catholic and refused her request for adoption.

M'ADOO MEETS ROOSEVELT IN CONFAB TODAY

Patronage Distribution is Expected to Come Up for Discussion

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The question of patronage distribution is expected to come in for discussion when President-elect Roosevelt and Senator-elect William Gibbs McAdoo of California meet today for the first time since the election.

The scheduled meeting was regarded as significant from the patronage standpoint by friends of both, inasmuch as it comes but 48 hours after a conference at which the Democratic party's budget was balanced by the simple expedient of allotting a quota to each state. Jobs will be passed out. It was learned, only to those states that produce the cash.

It was felt here that California, President Hoover's adopted state, was looking for a good share of the rewards that will fall to loyal Democrats after March 4. The state went into the Roosevelt column by a large majority because of McAdoo's popularity in the southern section and Sen. Hiram Johnson's bolting progressive Republicans in the north.

According to some observers, Senator Johnson may be invited to accept a cabinet responsibility, although he has been reported to prefer his senatorship. Johnson is expected to see Roosevelt here or at Hyde Park before he heads south next week.

In his press conference the president-elect expressed approval of arms embargoes as a method of keeping peace among nations. He offered his comment when informed that Mr. Hoover had asked for executive authority to carry out such a program.

"I have long been in favor of arms embargoes, especially against aggressor nations," Roosevelt remarked.

Roosevelt watched with interest the progress of the party bill for farm relief now before congress, discussing the subject with Prof. Raymond I. Moyle, his chief economic adviser, and with Henry L. Harman of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Harriman, he revealed, talked over the possibility of suggesting one or two minor amendments to the already well-amended agricultural measure.

Roosevelt was asked about legislation proposing currency inflation as one of the cures for the depression, but he refused to comment, indicating that the less said on the subject the better.

GARNER PROMISES SUPPORT FOR BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Immediate congressional action on drastic proposals to liberalize the bankruptcy laws and lighten the nation's burden of debt was promised today by Speaker of the House Garner.

The speaker pledged himself to throw his influence behind the LaGuardia-McKewen bill and bring it before the house next week. The exact date of consideration will depend upon time consumed by the judiciary committee in approving a final draft.

DEPUTY SHERIFF AND PRISONER AMBUSHED

JACKSON, Ky., Jan. 12.—(UP)—A deputy sheriff and his prisoner were shot to death here today from ambush.

The victims were James Marshall, 40, and Richard Jett, 60, a farmer whom Marshall was walking to the Breathitt county jail on a minor charge.

The slayers escaped without being seen. It was believed Marshall was slain for revenge and Jett was an innocent victim.

WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE ANY LONGER

Memoranda Sent to Foreign Powers That China to Abandon Peace Attitude

READY FOR ATTACKS

Note Forwarded to Signatory Nations of Boxer Agreement, Report Says

BULLETIN

PEIPING, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops broke out north of the great wall today while operations south of the wall were at a stalemate.

Chinese regulars, operating westward of Lichiasao, north of the wall, encountered and skirmished with Japanese Manchoukuo troops.

NANKING, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Charging that Japan has usurped her special privileges granted under the Boxer protocol, the Nanking government today dispatched memoranda to foreign powers stating that China can no longer assume responsibility for any situation that may result.

The note was forwarded to the signatory nations of the Boxer agreement. They include the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, Spain and the Netherlands.

The attack and seizure of Shanhaikwan, which the Nationalist government charged resulted in the loss of thousands of lives of innocent Chinese and heavy property damage, was branded a direct violation of Japan's special privileges.

The note was interpreted as meaning that the Nanking government has definitely decided to abandon its policy of passive resistance to the Japanese attacks and prepare for a determined stand against further invasion.

"Japan is now concentrating troops in that region (Shanhaikwan area) and therefore, under the circumstances, China cannot assume responsibility for any situation, in law or in fact, that may result when the Chinese exercise their legitimate right in resisting the aggressive action of Japan," the note said.

Under the Boxer protocol, which was drawn up 30 years ago, foreign powers were granted permission to station troops in North China for the protection of foreign lives and property. The protocol also empowered the signatory powers to maintain railroad communication between Peiping, which at that time was the Chinese capital, and Shanhaikwan.

The Chinese note held that Ja-

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, Jan. 12. (To the Editor of The Register:) Well, let's see what we can read in our daily paper and then agitate folks' breakfast with in the morning. "Democrats in clash in Senate, Carter Glass and Huey Long fight over banks." Get your Senate gallery seats now for the next four years, for there is going to be fun and amusement for everybody. "Bring the kiddies." Arguing over banks, I didn't know there was any left. "Debt issue flares up again in Paris." It flared, but it didn't "flare up" enough to do us any financial good. Even at a French statesman's salary, it will cost France more than 20 million a year just to argue over it. "Japan takes another hunk of China." That's a daily headline we don't pay any attention to any more. Japan's alibis are the most interesting and unique thing about that war. Yours, WILL ROGERS.

ORANGE COUNTY STORM DAMAGE IS $2,000,000

from telephone or power companies during the past 24 hours. At least 20 plate glass windows were shattered in the county by the heavy gale. In Santa Ana alone there were around 70 window panes broken. Roofing companies were busy today repairing on numerous roofs which were damaged in the storm.

Proof of the old saying, "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," was demonstrated today, when work of repairing damage wrought by the 50-mile an hour wind which swept through Orange county Tuesday and continued up to mid-night Wednesday, got under way in earnest.

Literally hundreds of men have been given work mending damage in various parts of the county. In the oil fields erection of toppled derricks will mean employment for several weeks for large crews of men, it was estimated.

It was considered miraculous that serious fires did not break out in many sections, especially in the oil fields, where high tension wires were snapped as derricks fell to the ground before the onslaught of the raging wind. Although 75 derricks in the Huntington Beach field, 49 at Olinda and 41 in the Richfield-Yorba Linda section were knocked down, carrying wires with them, no fires were reported.

Narrow Escape

E. P. Francis, resident of Atwood (Richfield) became uneasy when the wind rose and made an investigation of a nearby derrick. He decided that it was unsafe to stay in the house. A short time after Mr. and Mrs. Francis' sister, Mrs. Pearl Griffith, had gone to Yorba Linda, the derrick crashed into their home, wrecking it.

A three-ton crown block fell on the exact spot where Francis had parked his machine a short time previously.

Out of about 350 producing wells at Huntington Beach, at least 100 are now idle. A pipe line of the gathering plant of the Huntington Beach Oil company for some unknown cause buckled and for several hours spurted a three-inch stream of oil into the air, spilling 200 barrels or more over an adjacent lot on Sixteenth street between Acacia and Palm avenues.

A 20-year old eucalyptus tree on the curb near Geneva and Delaware in Huntington Beach toppled across the street and Geneva is blocked against traffic. The city street forces waged an all day fight yesterday in an effort to open the closed streets and remove the rubbish of crumpled oil derricks, but a few streets were still blocked against traffic today.

The county highway forces came with wrecking crews and trucks and by midnight yesterday at the county roads in this section had been opened.

Before the wind had subsided complaint were being received of thieves at work, stealing heavy and valuable timbers from derrick wreckage and prowling inside the derrick floors and engine rooms after electrical and mechanical equipment. Many of the companies placed watchmen at the derrick wrecks.

Peter Garrison, of Midway City, a county cow tester, had a hair-raising experience. Garrison was driving along Bolsa boulevard when his car ran into an electric power line which was down across the boulevard. The impact sent his car backward for 30 feet, proving the most peculiar sensation he had ever experienced, according to Garrison. Fortunately he was not injured and the only damage to the car was the loss of one light and the wrecking of the radiator.

Towers Crumple

One mile of the 90-foot Edison towers through Midway City were blown to the ground and it is said that the entire line is so thoroughly wrecked that a different tower line will be put in by the Edison company to replace it. The plates which secured the ground section of the steel poles to the underground section parted the bolts which held them on the windward side, letting them down. The line is of 66,000 volts capacity and connect with the Oceanview power house.

A full blooded mare, one of Walter J. Hill's fine stock at Midway City, was killed when the power line which crosses the Hill pasture collapsed. The mare, becoming frightened, ran into one of the cables, breaking her neck. The mare was valued at $3000 by Hill.

The front window of Lee Benno's drug store at the corner of Main street and Central avenue, Santa Ana, was broken out by the wind. Considerable damage was estimated on the merchandise in the store as a result. The station at P. E. car tracks was blown over and two dozen roofs were torn off of local residences. The front doors were torn from Yeager's market on the State highway and goods damaged as a result. A power line on Ocean avenue was damaged and electricity was not available for some time.

Orange Damaged

Orange today is assuming a normal appearance following the large wind. Reports reveal that a large number of trees were uprooted in this vicinity especially in walnut groves, where irrigation was in progress. A large cypress tree fell across the Myline home at 520 North Glassell street, causing some damage to the front of the house.

A peculiar happening occurred to A. D. Schoenfeld who was driving on the 102 highway toward Anaheim about 5 a. m. yesterday

GOVERNOR AND FINANCE HEAD ARE REBUKED

Sen. Bradford S. Crittenden, Stockton, passed 22 to 18.

The senate passed a concurrent resolution by Sen. J. L. Waggy, Bakersfield, memorializing congress to transfer control of naval oil reserves in Kern county from the United States navy department to the department of the interior. This transfer, involving a different administrative setup, would permit royalties amounting to $375,000 annually to revert to the state and also permit the taxation by Kern county of certain personal property, Senator Waggy said.

Seeking more time to study the proposal, the upper house continued until this afternoon final consideration of the urgency bill to authorize payment of $102,539 as indemnity to Southern California stockmen for animals destroyed during a minor epidemic of the foot and mouth disease.

Repeal of the state contractors' license act was asked in a bill introduced by Sen. R. R. Ingels, Potter valley. Other bills included the following:

Increasing fees provided under the produce dealers act to eliminate necessity of asking the legislature for appropriations, Sen. Frank W. Minter, Exeter.

A roof was blown from a small building along the highway directly in front of his car, which crashed through the obstruction with no further damage than a punctured tire.

At Olive the garage of Ray Krueger was blown over. A half dozen of the largest trees in Hewes park were blown down. At the Orange Union High school three windows were broken when an awning was torn from its fastenings and struck the glass. A window pane six feet by four feet in the Central Lemon house office at Villa Park was blown in and a part of the roof torn from the building. One of the large pepper trees at the city barns on Almond street, Orange, went down in the storm.

CENTRAL LEMON ASSOCIATION RETURNS TOTAL $412,376 FOR YEAR; CONTROL PLAN URGED

Total sales of $412,376.89 were made through the Central Lemon association, said to be the largest exclusive lemon house in the state, during the past year according to a report made today to members of the association by Roy Rannels, secretary and manager of the association at the annual meeting held today in the basement of the Orange city hall. The sales represent packed fruit and the average price received by growers per box was $3.60, f. o. b. California.

Returns to the growers were $2.70 per cwt. on fruit shipped. Credits to growers for association stock were $9,445.75. Fruit Growers Supply company stock $4,438.12 and Exchange Lemon Products stock $2,213.66. Payments to growers on revolving stock during the last year were $27,832.66.

Need Control

Groves convened this morning at the plant at Villa Park and heard talks by D. C. Field of the growers service department of the California Fruit Exchange and by C. C. Hillis, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange.

In his report Rannels said: "With the total production of lemons in California being far in excess of the total consumption in the United States and Canada it is absolutely necessary to the welfare of the producers that shipments be handled in such a way that the fruit will be moved to the markets in such quantities and at such times as the demand will justify and a price can be maintained that will make a satisfactory return to the grower and this can be done only by one organization controlling the movement of practically all of the fruit or the cooperation of all shipping organizations on some sort of a distribution plan that will insure an orderly movement of fruit to the markets and so far other than exchange lemon shippers have not shown any disposition to cooperate in an orderly shipping program."

Sees Better Year

"The crop for 1933 is apparently a normal crop as to quantity and so far the quality is very good. The recent cold and very dry weather is causing the fruit to color rapidly but as yet there is very little ripe fruit. With normal weather conditions for the balance of the year, the indications are that we will pick about 45 per cent of our crop before May 1 while in the year just closed we had picked 76 per cent of the crop before that date. With this condition prevailing and a decrease in the estimate of the total crop we should experience a better year in 1933.

"Our picks for the year were 11 per cent less than the preceding year. This was directly traceable to the weather conditions which we experienced last winter. Our peak storage was reached on April 15 when we had 229 cars in storage, 86 of them being stored at Tustin and 143 at Villa Park, our peak storage the previous year was 212 cars and that was on June 15 or 60 days later. The fruit picked between July 1 and the end of the season was the least picked during that period for the last 10 years and was less than 8 per cent of the total picks for the year.

Costs Reduced

"The shipments for this season were somewhat less than last year and prices obtained were the lowest average received in the last five years. The marketing of the crop in an orderly manner has proven rather difficult due to the early maturity of the crop much of which was of an inferior quality and could not be kept in storage for a sufficient length of time for marketing during the summer months.

"Our shipments for the year were 111,048 packed boxes and loose fruit sales were equivalent to 6357 boxes or a total of 117,405 packed boxes, this is a reduction of 25 per cent from the last year, frost damage necessitating heavy cullage caused by heavy movement to the By Products Plant.

"Final payment was made to the growers during the year on the 1929-30 culls amounting to 32 cents per cwt. or a total of $12,682.83, this brought our payment to the growers up to $1.17 per cwt. for culls for that season.

"Our packing retain was $1286 per cwt. this is a decrease of 4 cents per cwt. from last year. This covers all packing costs including interest charges and depreciation, and it is the fifth consecutive year in which we have been able to show a reduced cost in our operation.

"Picking and hauling costs were $9.67 cents per field box, this pan was violating the spirit of the protocol in using the railway to transport troops to be used in attacking China.

Japan Places Huge Order With France

PARIS, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Japan has placed a new $8,000,000 contract with a French firm for arms and munitions, the Agence Economique Et Financier reported today, while other sources reported that the secret shipment of war materials from Europe to the far east had reached quantities sufficient for war on a large scale.

It is no secret here that the United States government has been trying to track down the sources of arms shipments and to determine the amount of war supplies sent to the far east. Shipments also have been made to South Africa.

Agence Economique Et Financier said the $8,000,000 Japanese contract was secured by the Hotchkiss Armament works. The latest report of the company to stockholders, the agency said, revealed important war orders for delivery early last year and predicted new orders, especially for heavy artillery, in the near future.

FIGHTING HALTED BY COLD WEATHER

PEIPING, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Intense cold on the southern and eastern frontiers of Jehol province brought fighting between Japanese and Chinese to a standstill today and delayed the anticipated Japanese advance toward Jehol's capital, Chengteh.

Zero temperature made the use of water cooled machine guns impossible and otherwise contributed to the stalemate of military activity, foreign military observers reported. Shanhaikwan, Chinwangtao and Shihao were quiet.

During the lull of military action, foreign diplomatic representatives planned to go to Nanking to keep closer contact with the Chinese government during efforts at conciliation which the league of nations will resume at Geneva Monday, Premier Wang Ching Wei has been recalled from Germany, where he had been taking a cure, but it was not known here whether he would proceed direct to China or stop at Geneva for the league discussions.

United States Minister Nelson Johnson decided not to accompany the diplomatic delegation to Nanking, but to remain here and maintain contact through the consulate general at Nanking.

SEEK BIDS ON FOURTH MAIN BUILDING SOON

Bids for the construction of the new Montgomery Ward and company building at the northeast corner of Fourth and Main streets will be called for the latter part of this week or early next week, it was learned today following the visit to Santa Ana yesterday of Sewell Avery, chairman of the board of directors of the company, and a national figure in the financial world.

Avery was in Santa Ana yesterday accompanied by officials of the company, who are making an inspection tour of all company stores in the state. He is a prominent business and civic leader in Chicago.

The new store building here, to be constructed on property owned by Mrs. Emma L. French, pioneer Santa Anna, will be three stories high with a full basement. It is expected that the building will cost around $75,000 or $80,000 in addition to the new fixtures and other features which are to be installed. J. E. Madden, manager of the local store, has received official word from other company officials that all official matters pertaining to the lease on the business property and other details have been successfully negotiated and no hitch is anticipated in the building program. The store, when erected, will be one of the finest in the state, Madden said.

It is expected that it will take about four months to complete the building. Construction work is expected to begin soon after bids are called. Plans are being prepared by W. Horace Austin.

BASIC WHEAT PRICE IS SET AT 75 CENTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The House today wrote into the pending domestic allotment farm relief bill minimum "fair prices" for many important agricultural products.

The alteration in the measure would guarantee farmers virtually pre-war level prices for their output of wheat, cotton, tobacco, hogs, rice, dairy products and peanuts.

The base price for wheat was set at 75 cents a bushel for the marketing period prior to the 1933-34 crop year. After that time, the department of agriculture would be given wide latitude in fixing base prices for all commodities treated in the bill, as was originally intended.

REINSTATEMENT OF OFFICIAL ORDERED

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Reinstatement of William W. Bedford to the office of assistant chief of the division of markets from which he was "discharged" April 1, was ordered in a decision on file today by Superior Judge Malcolm C. Glenn.

Bedford was relieved from office by Dudley Moulton, state director of agriculture, when the office was "abolished." He applied to the superior court for reinstatement alleging the office was "abolished" as a subterfuge to discharge him. He cited a civil service examination in which he received the highest rating for the position.

is a reduction of 2.59 cents per field box over 1931.

Because of lack of a quorum, the same officers hold over. They are Hugh T. Thompson, president; W. H. Flippin, vice president; M. B. Allen, C. H. Jeffrey and Felton D. Browning, directors, and Roy Rannels, secretary-manager.

A WORD OF COMFORT

An opinion about God is not sufficient to uphold you in your hour of need. Strength requisite for your burdens and trials comes only from a real venture of faith in Him.
When you trust Him and respond to His guidance, you discover that you have courage and power to fulfill your daily tasks and to live confidently toward the reunion in Paradise which will satisfy your soul's desire.

OFFICERS SAY VICTIM HAD BEEN DRINKING

Placing a borrowed shotgun against his chest while he stood on the front porch of the home of a friend, Myron Nelson, 34, former city employee of Anaheim pulled the trigger, committing suicide, at 7:30 o'clock last night.

His body was removed to the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral parlors at Anaheim. No inquest will be held.

Nelson had been despondent for the past several days, it was learned. Domestic difficulties are believed to have led to his desire to end his own life. He leaves a widow and two daughters, 7 and 10 years old at 213 South Ohio street, Anaheim.

Nelson appeared at a taxi cab stand last evening and accosted L.
B. Parker, taxi driver whom he asked to drive him to the ranch of J. R. Dugan, on Red and avenue.

When he arrived there he went to Dugan, told him he was going duck hunting on Salton sea and asked to borrow his shotgun. Dugan, sensing nothing unusual, loaned Nelson the gun. Nelson then stepped out on the front porch, in full view of Parker, whom he had ordered, to wait for him in the car, and placing the gun against his chest, pulled the trigger. The charge which struck him squarely, knocked him 10 feet out into the yard.

Parker rushed to the dying man and heard him say, he reported,
"gone far enough." In a few moments he was dead.

Anaheim police and sheriff's officers who made an investigation, reported that Nelson had been drinking heavily during the past several days and apparently was greatly worried.

At midnight Sunday he went to the Anaheim police department where he asked to be arrested for being drunk. Police locked him up giving him a medical examination and he was fined $10 the next day, which he paid.

Yesterday morning he went to Captain Marcus Andrada, of the police and told him that his wife had left him and asked the officer to intervene for him.

REPORTS FROM BANK OFFICIALS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Newly elected officers and directors of the Commercial National bank began serving their terms for the current year today following the annual stockholders meeting, held in the directors room of the bank.

Directors elected are as follows:
A. I. Mellenthin, J. P. Baumgartner, S. H. Finley, A. W. Gerrard, J. J. Seba, J. C. Horton, John Knox, A. J. McFadden, John Os-terman, Dr. C. W. Ralston, C. E.
Utt, James B. Utt, W. V. Whitson, Theo. A. Winbiger, George Dunton, Fred W. May and E. T.
McFadden.

Immediately after the election of directors, officers were chosen. J.
P. Baumgartner was re-elected president of the bank, and all other officers were re-elected, including A. I. Mellenthin, executive vice president and cashier; S. H. Finley, vice president; E. T. McFadden, vice president, and Leland
Finley, assistant cashier.

Annual reports were given by both President Baumgartner and Mellenthin. Mellenthin's report covered the business activities of 1932. He pointed out that hardship is dying down and bankers are breathing easier now as cash begins to return to the banks.

Net earnings of the bank during the year just ended were six per cent, the report revealed, although no dividends were declared. Mellenthin reported no borrowings for the year and no redemptions, and said that bond investments were considerably increased, including a considerable amount of government bonds.

"Prospects for the coming year look good," Mellenthin said, "the bank is in splendid condition so that it can carry through the year regardless of conditions. We look for a general pick-up before many months have elapsed."

A vote of thanks was extended to the executive officers of the bank by the stockholders for the work of the past year.

Now You Can't Say You Weren't Warned

Watch your step tomorrow!

Should a black cat cross your path, or should you inadvertently walk under a step ladder, just give up for the day.

Sure the above warning sounds nutty. It is nutty but tomorrow is Friday the Thirteenth and, according to all accepted traditions, nutty things happen on that day.

Just why Friday the Thirteenth should be more unlucky than any other day of the year no one has ever explained, but the tradition has been passed down through the years until it has almost as many staunch believers as Santa Claus and the Easter Rabbit.

Watch out for Friday the Thirteenth.

FILM DIRECTOR DEFENDANT IN $52,700 SUIT

Damages totalling $52,700 for injuries received in an automobile accident January 5, last, by Mrs.
Marion Bradley Rogers, 56, of La Jolla, are demanded in a suit filed in superior court against Albert Dezel, Hollywood motion picture executive and his chaffer, Howard G. Underwood.

Mrs. Rogers, who was riding in an automobile driven by Otto Harmon, 20, also of La Jolla, was seriously injured when, according to her complaint, the Dezel automobile drove through a boulevard stop at the intersection of Twelfth street and Fairhaven avenue and crashed into the car in which she was riding.

The complaint alleged that Underwood was driving the Dezel automobile in a careless and negligent manner and at a high rate of speed. Mrs. Rogers' right shoulder was broken, both wrists were fractured and she received lacerations about the face and head, that, according to her complaint,
will permanently disfigure her.

In her suit she is asking for $50,000 general damages; $2,500 for ambulance fees, medical expenses since the crash which will have to continue until she regains her health. She is also asking for $200 to repair damages to her automobile.

Affairs of the First State Bank of Huntington Beach, closed January 22, 1932, will be taken to court through filing of a suit against Edward Rainey as state superintendent of banking in charge of liquidation of the institution. The suit was filed by the City of Huntington Beach and City
Treasurer Harvey S. Young.

The suit as asking the court to approve and allow the city's claim for $7300.15 against the defunct bank and to prorrate and allow to the city a share in the dividend allowed depositors of the bank as partial settlement of claims.

According to the action, at the time the bank closed its doors the City of Huntington Beach had on deposit in that institution $30,000 at 2 per cent interest. As security for the deposit the city took bonds owned by the bank.

On February 1, 1932, following closing of the bank the city demanded payment of its claim. This demand was denied and on February 18 Young, acting as city treasurer sold a portion of the city's bonds realizing $22,331.52 through the sale. This sale of bonds left a balance of $7300.15 still due from the defunct bank with the city holding, as security, bonds valued at $10,000.

The city again demanded payment of the balance due on its deposit on July 1, 1932. Following refusal of this demand the present suit was prepared for filing.

EXPECT CROWD AT MEETING ON TECHNOCRACY

Rarely has there been such a

$537,941 Received For Fruit Of M. O. D. House

FINLEY HITS RAIL RATES IN ANNUAL REPORT

ORANGE, Jan. 12.—The menace which faces the orange grower in the growth of the loose fruit traffic, the necessity for lower freight rates and advantages of the building up of the private sales markets were three points of importance covered in the annual report given here today by L. F. Finley, manager of the Orange Mutual Citrus association, local affiliation of the Mutual Orange Distributors.

The meeting was at 10 o'clock in the packing house, with J. F. Snowden, president, in charge. General prospects in the distribution of citrus fruits were outlined by Bruce W. McDaniel, general counsel of the MOD, and W. H. Blodgett, field manager. Short talks were made by E. J. Brickell, manager of the supply department, and H. L. Thompson, growers' service department.

Condensed details of the financial report as given by Finley show the association to have received $537,941.94 for fruit handled in 1932, and to be returning to the growers refunds of 35 cents a packed box on the oranges and 10 cents hundredweight on the lemons.

"We are entering 1933 with the largest acreage in our history," Finley said. "While the past season was a difficult one for the grower, it was the most favorable since 1923 for the general labor situation throughout the citrus districts. For instance, our association ran on almost full time during the seasons. Had it not been for the citrus industry in Southern California, labor would have been in a much worse condition."

"During the peak of the coming season our association will employ 250 persons in the house and in the groves. This will be a tremendous aid to labor."

"The growth of loose fruit traffic in the west is the present greatest menace facing the orange industry. This traffic is increasing; it is spreading. And in the markets where it is most widespread, every box of packed fruit must meet this demoralizing competition."

Lower freight rates are necessary, Finley stated.

"We need a substantial reduction in freight rates. This wartime cost of transportation is entirely out of line when the carrier receives more per box for transporting your fruit to market in 6 to 10 days than you receive per box for a full year of work."

"The traffic manager of the MOD is working to bring this much-needed reduction in the freight rates."

In speaking of the upbuilding of markets, Finley pointed out that during 1932 "only eight per cent of the total fruit handled by the MOD was sold in the auction markets."

"We believe," he said, "that more satisfactory prices can be obtained in the private sales markets, rather than placing the cars in auctions which may be already oversupplied."

Royal Neighbors' Ceremonies Held In Anaheim Soon

ORANGE, Jan. 12.—Orange lodge, Royal Neighbors of America, entertained a trio of special guests at a luncheon meeting held yesterday in Smith and Grote hall. Guests were Mrs. Lenora Fletcher, district deputy, and Mrs. Rachel Dodson, both of Long Beach, and Mrs. Tucker, of Anaheim.

The committee for the covered dish luncheon served at noon included Mesdames C. H. Adams, Sadie Hanzar and Hattie Buhrman.

Semi-annual reports were given by Mrs. Rebecca Baier, treasurer, and Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, recorder. Plans were made for an installation service to be held in Anaheim the evening of January 23, when new officers of Anaheim Orange and Fullerton Royal Neighbors will be installed.

Mrs. Hart Pennington, orator, was in charge of the meeting.

STRIDES MADE IN EDUCATION CITED IN TALK

ORANGE, Jan. 12.—Discussing "The School and the Present Crisis," Arthur Corey, superintendent of Buena Park schools and assistant superintendent of county schools, was the speaker yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of Intermediate P. T. A.

Presiding his talk, there was a business session, with Mrs. C. W. Kolkhorst, president, in charge. The room prize committee displayed a gold fish bowl and standard just purchased, and Mrs. Louise Bradshaw's room proved to be its winner for this month.

Following a reading, "Six Hopkings," by Miss Rachel Goode, Mr. Corey gave his talk, introduced by Mrs. Carl Sutton. He said that more progress has been made during the past 100 years than all previous centuries combined. Church, home and school all have undergone changes, so that one out of every three children receives religious training. Such training is just one of the fields which many parents expect the teachers to cover, he brought out. The speaker stated that although a tremendous expense is involved educating children adequately, the money is available. Instead of further economizing on the school budget, there could be a slash in other projects whose funds have not been cut down to the same extent as the school system, the speaker said.

Miss Rachel Williams announced rehearsals of the P. T. A. chorus every Tuesday from 9 to 10 a. m. in Intermediate school, urging all mothers interested to take part.

Mrs. Carl Sutton announced that the second of a series of talks on "Problems of Adolescence" is to be given tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Orange union high school by Dr. Regina Westcott Wieman. There is no charge for admittance.

ATTENDANCE AT CHURCH NIGHT SESSION GAINS

ORANGE, Jan. 12.—Marked by a larger attendance than the initial event of last week, the meeting held at the Epworth hall of the First Methodist church last night was a most successful affair. A 50 per cent increase recorded in class registrations and 50 more persons shared the 6:15 o'clock dinner than did last week.

The dinner speaker, Dr. Carl Knopf, dean of the department of Biblical literature of the University of Southern California spoke on "Discovering the Cause of Our Troubles," basing his findings on the book of Ecclesiastes. Dr. Knopf, in giving a series of six talks, opened the first by using a supposed conversation between a great teacher, who sat at the gates of the city of Jerusalem, and a group of his pupils, and last night he continued the conversation in discussing the present causes of economic, political and religious unrest. Of all the problems the world has to face the hardest is maladjustment, the speaker declared.

Man is born righteous, Dr. Knopf said he believed, and his troubles come about from wrong choices. Because for centuries men have made selfish rather than social choices, difficulties have come about. However, the speaker stated, in viewing the past, it may be seen that great progress has been made along social lines. An interested group in the World Fellowship class heard a talk on "The Farmer the World Around," given by Dr. Charles F. W. Kohlberg, of Fullerton.

FOOTHILL CENTER MEMBERS TOLD OF MEXICAN PROBLEM BY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

VILLA PARK, Jan. 12.—One hundred people attended the meeting of the Foothill Farm center at Villa Park hall last evening. A Spanish dinner was served by P. T. A. members under the direction of Mrs. Charles O. Thomson. The program was in charge of the president of the Foothill center, C. A. Palmer, of Olive. Prof. J. D. Hayes, El Modena school superintendent, talked on the Mexican problem.

Professor Hayes said he had sent a questionnaire to every elementary school in the county and had learned that in the first grades of the county 37 per cent of the children are Mexicans, 30 per cent in the second grade, 27 per cent in the third grade, 21 per cent in the fourth grade, 20 per cent in the fifth grade, 15 per cent in the sixth grade, 12 per cent in the seventh grade, and 9 per cent in the eighth grade; only about 5 per cent of the Mexican children enter high school, and a mere fraction enters the senior class, he declared.

Professor Hayes stated that each school was asked, "What do you consider your greatest handicap?" He said the answer was "The course of study." This is absolutely unsuited to the Mexican children according to Mr. Hayes, as it is based on the principle of getting ready to go to high school. He said these children need a manual type of education, and that generally in the fifth grade, their achievements cease. He said they had been attempting to do three things—1. Trying to adjust the work to the youngster and to develop the social side; and through the courtesy of Ray Atkinson, county superintendent of schools, who had given the teachers permission to work out their own course of study, as best suited their needs, they had been able to do much.

2. To reduce the number of failures to zero, if possible. He said

PASTORS HOLD CONFERENCE IN OLIVE SCHOOL

OLIVE, Jan. 12.—Lutheran ministers met at St. Paul's school for regular monthly sessions Tuesday. The present officers were elected to serve for another year. They are the Rev. E. H. Krelt, president; the Rev. A. G. Webber, of Orange, secretary, and the Rev. O. Skov, of Hemet, treasurer.

The Rev. William Schmook, of Santa Ana, presented an interesting paper on the doctrine of "The Millennium."

The Rev. G. Smukal, of Los Angeles, president of the Southern California district, was present and gave reports on the work of the district and Synod. Of special interest to the Orange county pastors was the announcement that Immanuel Lutheran congregation of Orange, the Rev. A. G. Webber, pastor, had extended an invitation to the district board of directors to hold the district convention in June in Orange. President Smukal stated that the invitation would undoubtedly be accepted.

Other pastors present were H. G. Schmeider, of Anaheim; John C. Schmidt, of San Pedro; M. H. Tietjen, of Riverside; William Ruff, of Orange; L. Jagels, of Escondido; O. Henkel, of Fontana; H. A. Heisermann, of Pomona; C. Damschroeder, of San Diego; A. M. Wynken, of Long Beach; R. Jaske, of Whittier, and Armand Mueller, of Van Nuys.

DAUGHTER BORN

BREA, Jan. 12.—A daughter, Rose Marie, weighing eight pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Leverich at the home of Mrs. Ray Closson January 8. There are three boys in the Leverich home.

Proper Training For Child Topic Of Superintendent

EL MODENA, Jan. 12.—The El Modena P. T. A. met Tuesday afternoon in the Roosevelt building. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Fay Irwin. The main address was given by J. D. Hayes, superintendent of the El Modena schools. His topic was, "For Every Child Such Teaching and Training as Will Prepare Him for a Successful Parenthood, Homemaking and the Rights of Citizenship."

Henrietta and Helen Burchell entertained with piano and violin numbers. Vocal selections were given by Ethel Armstrong and readings by Mary Burchell.

Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. Joseph Last and Mrs. J. M. Burchell, who were hostesses for the afternoon served refreshments.

Mrs. Laura Bowen Hostess To Club

ORANGE, Jan. 12.—A pleasant afternoon was spent in the home of Mrs. Laura Bowen, 134 East Almond avenue, yesterday. Although much of the time was spent in sewing, there were clever games and contests to occupy some of the afternoon.

In concluding her hospitality, Mrs. Bowen served dainty refreshments on individual trays.

Those present were Mrs. Ed Windolph, president, who conducted the business session, and Mesdames W. A. Huseroff, O. U. F. N. I., Frank Palmer, W. B. Anderson, D. E. Strain, John Hirst, D. F. Campbell, J. A. Campbell, Rebecca Pope, L. W. Hemphill, Sarah J. Dutton, Charles Hotchkiss, E. N. Turner and the hostess, Mrs. Bowen.

Mrs. J. A. Campbell is to be hostess at the next meeting on February 8.

FINAL RITES CONDUCTED FOR W. GODDICKSEN

ORANGE, Jan. 12.—Funeral services for D. F. Goddicksen, 44, of Los Angeles, formerly of Orange, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Gilgoly Funeral chapel. The Rev. Thomas H. Walker of Anaheim officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holzgrafe of Santa Ana sang "Saved by Grace," accompanied by Mrs. G. Watson of Santa Ana. Mrs. Watson gave a vocal solo, "Nearer My God To Thee." Organ selections played before and after the ceremony were "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms" and "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

Funeralbearers were Horace Newman, William Feldner, Walter Eisenbraun, Henry Meyer, Roy Wally and R. Burke Wally. Interment was in Fairhaven cemetery. A firing squad of National Guards gave a salute at the grave. The American Legion had covered the casket with an American flag, which was presented to Mr. Goddicksen's wife, Mrs. Mathilda Goddicksen, following services.

Surviving him besides his widow of Los Angeles, are his mother, Mrs. Emilie Goddicksen of Orange; two brothers, Grant Goddicksen of Orange and Al Lenz Goddicksen of Santa Ana; two sisters, Mrs. John Wally of Orange and Mrs. Oscar Stoller of San Bernardino.

Mr. Goddicksen had been ill since the latter part of October, shortly after the death of his father, Peter Goddicksen, of Orange. He came to California from South Dakota 31 years ago with his parents.

THIS WOMAN LOST 35 LBS. OF FAT

Miss M. Katner of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Have used Kruschen for the past 4 months and have not only lost 35 pounds but feel so much better in every way. Even for people who don't care to reduce, Kruschen is wonderful to keep the system healthy. I being a nurse should know for I've tried so many things, but only Kruschen answered all purposes." (May 12, 1932)

TO lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at McCoy Drug Co., 2 stores, Kelley Drug, Ltd., or any drugist in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle, money back.—Adv.

DECLARES IMPROVEMENT AND ECONOMY COULD BE EFFECTED BY UNITING LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Asserting that a saving and improvement in county government and finance could be made by combining cities of the county and the county government into one unit, if the right kind of a charter could be obtained, County Assessor James Sleeper was the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club which was held yesterday noon in Ketter's cafe.

The statement was made in response to a question asked by Sleeper after he had delivered an address explaining the inner workings of the assessor's office. He declared he would favor such a movement, emphasizing the importance of obtaining the proper kind of a charter.

Answering another question, he declared that it was almost impossible to force county government costs down on a level with reductions made by private citizens because of the large number of special assessment districts.

Cutting Assessments He explained that he was trying to keep the assessed valuation of property in the county low in order

COLDS GO THROUGH 3 STAGES!

And They are Far Easier Stopped in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily passes through three stages—the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. Relief is twice as easy in the first stage.

For prompt relief take a couple of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine immediately upon catching cold. This will usually expel the cold overnight and thus prevent the spread of the infection within your system.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is effective because it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, kills the cold germs and fever in the system. Relieves the headache and grippiness. Tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful. May be safely taken by young and old and whether you stay indoors or go out. There is absolutely no penalty attached to its use. For more than 40 years it has been the standard cold and grippiness tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine now comes in two sizes—30c and 50c. Get yourself a package today and be ready for any cold that may come along. Say "NO" to a substitute!

NOTE: During Epidemics a tablet or two of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine every morning and night will do much to keep your system immune.—Adv.

of the largest property owners (they being favored in their assessments). This is absolutely false, and is a reflection on your board of supervisors, as they sit as a board of equalization and pass on all assessments. I have never been controlled by anyone and never will, as long as I am assessor of Orange county.

Tax Burden
"One of the causes of the depreciation in property values is the burden we have placed on our property by voting bonds and forming special districts for improvements that we could not afford and could have got along without, and in many cases, it has caused the owner to lose his property. The special district taxes vary from 13c to $23.90, on the $100 valuation. This higher rate combined with the county, city, school, and other special rates, makes a total rate of $20 on the $100 valuation. This is a burden that no property can stand, and no sane investor would think about paying a reasonable value for a property having to carry such a tax burden. It is not so much the real tax that hurts the taxpayer, but the special assessment tax that he has placed against his property himself. I advise against the overburdening of property by special district assessments some bonds, or seven years ago. At that time, boosters did it with me, claiming that these improvements would increase the value of property instead of decrease the value.

"The great trouble with the average taxpayer is that he never pays any attention to his taxes until he gets his tax bill. He then goes up in the air, curses his officials for the burdens he has placed upon himself by voting bonds, and forming special assessment districts which have weighed him down, and paid at a time when it hurts. If the taxpayer wants taxes reduced, there is only one way to do so: that is to cut expenses, be willing to do without some of the luxuries we have been enjoying, stop spending for improvements not needed, help your officials—they are working for your interest and need your assistance in their work."

No Favoritism
"It is the duty of the board," he said, "to examine these rolls and see that all property is carrying its just proportion of the tax burden. They have the power, and it is their duty, to raise or lower any unjust assessment. With these conditions existing, how can an assessor, as some would have you believe, cover up any assessment for the purpose of favoring any taxpayer?"

"Real estate values are handled by the assessor, personally, with the assistance of deputies from the various districts. We have always tried to carry a reasonable value, and have never carried the inflated values which existed three years ago. Tree values are based upon personal inspection by C. R. Ridgway, of La Habra."

The speaker quoted figures to show the tremendous amount of property of all descriptions which must be assessed each year. He pointed out that in 1920 the county had 24,747 assessments while in 1932 there were 69,147.

"From 1920 to 1932, inclusive," he said, "we have collected unsecured personal property taxes of $11,605,164.07. An average of $93,700 per year for the past 13 years. This is the largest collection of unsecured tax in the state by any assessor, with the exception of the assessor of Los Angeles county."

"The oil industry pays the bulk of this tax, and if there is not a new field or a deeper oil sand found in our county, we can expect a depreciation in the value of our oil properties. The town of Huntington Beach is declining fast, as well as other smaller properties."

"You have heard a great deal about my being controlled by some

Brea Cubs Add 3 New Members
BREA, Jan. 12.—The Cub pack, a part of Boy Scout troop No. 97, sponsored by the Brea Lions club, met in the Legion hall this week and initiated three new members. ## Court Notes

The County of Orange has filed three more suits in superior court for foreclosure of liens on property for extermination of Johnson grass by the agricultural commissioner's office. Suits filed yesterday were against: E. Del Giorgio, $28.28; Evans Security company, $17.69; and Frank O. Evans, $29.43.

Gertrude M. Easterly has filed suit against Eunice B. Orcutt, of Newport Beach, for $1500 allegedly due on a note for that amount dated May 8, 1931, and running one year. The plaintiff alleges that the loan was secured by a second trust deed, subject to a former trust deed for $7000. The property has been sold under the terms of the first trust deed the suit alleges.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

— News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON By Paul Mallon

FARM BILL
The White House is gently pulling the wrong wires it has left in congress to block the farm bill.

Presidential Secretary Newton has been up to the house buzzing in the ears of friends. They got the idea the President is not as eager to veto the Allotment Plan as he is to wield the axe on beer. A bad political reaction in the west is certain to follow a farm veto. It would be much nicer to have the whole thing go over until Roosevelt comes in.

Democrats heard about Newton's activity. It made them doubly anxious to lay the baby on the White House doorstep before Mr. Hoover goes out.

There is not the slightest chance in the world that Mr. Hoover could be induced to sign the bill. It is personally distasteful to him.

Changing its name to the Party Bill instead of the Allotment Plan will not make it look like a rose to him. The Democrats rechristened the measure for other private reasons. Farmers do not like the word Allotment. Party sounds better. Also the old Allotment Plan was originally sponsored in Republican quarters. Senator McNary had it in his three-way bill at the last session. Calling it Party makes it sound like something different.

In some minor details it is. Essentially it is not.

Public presidential opposition to the farm plan will be based on constitutional grounds. The Attorney General has been looking the matter up privately. He is already prepared to rule its constitutionality doubtful. The idea is that the measure proposes price fixing and requires farmers to accept it.

That question will not be determined until the Supreme Court speaks.

A meat packer lobbyist is bragging to friends that the increase in hog prices last spring was a job he did. He claims it had political ramifications.

Members of the house put some credence in the yarn but there is no proof of it.

There is proof that the packers have been the leading opponents of the Allotment Bill. They are connected with shippers in all sections. These shippers have been telegraphing congressmen in opposition to the bill. They claim it would ruin the hog market.

Some house members received as many as ten telegrams a day from shipping sources. It had no appreciable effect.

Mr. Roosevelt forcefully answered house rumors that he opposed the farm bill by sending his Columbia prof Rex Tugwell down here while the house was considering it.

Tugwell readily admitted it was a price-fixing bill in executive meetings with the farm bloc. He thought the wording would curve around constitutional objections.

FEDERAL RESERVE
An important change is impending in the Federal Reserve Board. Mr. Roosevelt will name three members as soon as he comes in. Only two Republicans will remain counting Governor Meyer as a Republican. The three Mr. Roosevelt will name include the Secretary of Treasury, the Comptroller of Currency and a replacement of Wayland Magee, whose term expires shortly.

The board however already knows the Democrats won the election.

That is one reason why the open market committee decided last week to make an announcement of its meeting for the first time. The announcement merely assured banks that open market operations would continue. No change of policy has come yet but Mr. Roosevelt will get one any time he wants it.

SHORTER WEEK
The Labor boys have been promised that Mr. Roosevelt will push the five day week as it needs to be pushed.

That is one reason why President Green of the A. F. of L. has been threatening strikes if recalcitrant employers do not change their minds.

Mr. Hoover dropped the idea because he could not put it into

RUSSIA
The State department is secretly preparing to send two men to Russia. They claim it will be just like Byrd exploring the South Pole but Russian representatives have already learned that it is being done at Mr. Roosevelt's request. It is further confirmation of the fact that Russian recognition in the government departments. He could not induce business to adopt it unless he did it himself.

That is supposed to be one of the first situations to be ironed out by the Roosevelt administration.

tion is coming soon after Mr. Roosevelt takes office.

Mr. Roosevelt's New York conference with Mr. Stimson may have had something to do with that.

Folks nearest the incoming throne will tell you that Mr. Roosevelt likes the secretary of state. He would lean toward Mr. Stimson's policies as against those of Mr. Hoover in the instances where they clashed.

At the same time Mr. Roosevelt does not like Treasury Secretary Mills. Mr. Roosevelt thinks Mills is a politician.

TAXES
The story is running around the Democratic cloakrooms about the efforts of Publisher William Randolph Hearst to persuade Mr. Roosevelt to endorse the sales tax. Hearst went personally to the President-elect with his appeal some weeks ago. The reply he received was, "W. R. I can't do it."

The President-elect is supposed to favor adoption of obnoxious taxes instead of those that will not be felt, like the sales tax. If they are obnoxious he thinks they will be repealed at the first opportunity. If they are unnoticed they might be continued indefinitely.

NOTES
There is some talk of taxing surplus reserves in banks. It is only talk. Nothing will come of it. Mr. Roosevelt must have been misinformed when he inspired yarns from Hyde Park about a prospective tax on interest on bonds, saying a bill was pending in congress for that purpose. Republican detectives have been unable to find any such bill. There is a confidential reason why the house loan mortgage system is being allowed to continue its fruitless business. If the act is liberalized to help small home owners the bonds of the system could not be sold. The only good way out appears to be the Couzens plan to kill the whole thing and turn $400,000,000 over to the R. F. C. to handle mortgage distress among the small home owners. That idea will be pressed shortly.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin
RADIO CITY
Rockefeller's Radio City is extremely unpopular with other New York landlords. A high occupancy rate has been built up by offering space to prospective tenants at the same per foot rental they are currently paying elsewhere. The buildings are attractive and naturally a lot of tenants have taken advantage of the offer. Comments on the noted Rockefeller philanthropy are acid.

Inside sources estimate that the total Rockefeller stake in Radio City will run to the modest sum of 750 million dollars. There is no chance of the development earning 1 per cent on this investment. The prediction is made from informed quarters that the Rockefellers will eventually write off 150 million dollars of this with a grand gesture and try to get a fair return on what is left. The present cost of the toy is $63,000 a day.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company owns a 60 million dollar first mortgage on the Center property. The loan was written with a personal guarantee of payment from John D. Jr. himself.

The relations between Rockefeller Center and Radio Corporation have given the Rockefellers a very important voice in the Corporation's affairs. The principal condition of a 90 per cent reduction in R. C. A.'s floor space contract was the turning over to Rockefeller interests of a whole of a block of Radio stock. A new director representing the Rockefellers has already been added to the R. C. A. board.

In combination with Insull developments this may have an adverse bearing on Owen Young's desire to remain at the head of Radio Corporation.

RADIO
The announcement of Wired Radio, Inc., that they have perfected a radio tube without filament is of moment to the Radio Corporation. License fees on the manufacturing of tubes is one of their largest income items. In order to avoid disastrous consequences a large part of the Radio Corporation stock which Westinghouse and General Electric must sell under government orders will probably pass to the North American company which owns Wired Radio.

NITRATE
Another large fortune about to take a vigorous sock in the eye is that of the Guggenheims. The Cosach nitrate monopoly in Chile under Guggenheim auspices is about to be cracked wide open.

The trick is that other American interests participating in Cosach have been guaranteed against loss by Guggenheim interests. Therefore they are not worrying—but the Guggenheims are.

PATRONAGE
A deal has been put through between Farley and the Tammany crowd which will give Tammany control of patronage in New York City and the Albany district and leave the rest of the state to the L. Man-Farley-Flynn setup. This is a true—not a treaty of peace. The non-Tammany Democrats have made no commitments about the city election next fall.

TAMMANY
Tammany Mayor O'Brien has gotten off on the wrong foot with the newspaper boys. He is bawling press conferences and convincing himself to written statements. The answer seems to be the same as in the case of Hyland—who had a similar policy. The powers backstage do not care to have the Mayor giving out unedited interviews.

Boss Curry of Tammany and Boss McCooey of Brooklyn had a falling out on the matter of committee chairmanships in the state senate. A neutral senator was called in to act as dove of peace. Everything was smoothed over but there are further possibilities for trouble before fall. McCooey holds trump and knows it. Copyright, 1933, McClure News-P. Syn.

Is There An Honest Dollar Under the Gold Standard?
Editor, The Register:
When a debt, mortgage or bond is paid, the relative value of the dollar and labor and commodities is rarely ever the same as at the time when the obligation was incurred. Now—most debts are contracted under the stress of war or great disaster, or during a period of inflation of credit and currency when all prices are high.

Yes—the dollar is honest at the exact time that commodities, labor and other things of value are exchanged, for it is then a medium of exchange and values are relative.

Bonds, mortgages and contracts entered into, projecting payment in dollars to some future date, is never honest except if they are Commodity - Evaluated. Inflation of dollars—(quantity per capita)—decreases the purchasing power in commodities, and vice versa.

In one case we have $2.26 wheat. In the other case we have 50-cent wheat. In May 1932, the treasury department purchased $100,000,000 in government bonds for each week of the month stabilizing bonds in COLLARS, making them liquid in order to help the banks. They bought no real estate, however. But they stabilized the bonds in controlled quantity of dollars, backed by the U. S. treasury, but not in COMMODITY VALUES.

No corporation or individual produces dollars. We have labor and produce commodities to sell in a fluctuating market. Notice the relation of quantity of dollars to debt and how much money has been inflated and deflated. Who benefited by it?

Money in circulation, per capita, 1914, $34.93; national debt, per capita, 1914, $13; Money in circulation, per capita, 1920, $53.21; money in circulation, per capita, 1932, $45.56; national debt, per capita, 1932, $159.91.

Only one-third enough currency to pay the national debt now.

The House Loan Bank bill permits the issue of currency by debiting U. S. bonds drawing 3 1/2 per cent interest or less, without gold coverage. For a period of three years all such bonds have the circulation privilege by paying 1-2 of 1 per cent tax. They get the currency and still collect the interest on the bonds. They have their cake and eat it too. Is that an honest dollar?

Have we an honest banking system? From 1920 to 1932 more than 12,000 banks in the United States closed their doors. President Hoover in his acceptance speech stated that the national, state and local bonded debt was $30,000,000,000. This money has been spent and is a mortgage on property everywhere. It is tax exempt. Its value was fixed in dollars, but if its value had been fixed in wheat, cotton or other commodities which it originally purchased, it would not be so hard to repay. The Santa Ana (Calif.) Register under date of

Dec. 7, 1932, carried the following editorial:

MR. BRISBANE MAKES A SUGGESTION
"Arthur Brisbane, writing in a morning paper, suggests that the government might call in ten billions of dollars of the bonds which it owes, paying for them with ten billions of paper money, being a demand on the government."

"He says that could not be called inflation because the government's indebtedness would not be increased. Instead of owing the present bondholders, it would owe the people who would use the money. But it would bear no interest and save $400,000,000 interest per year for the taxpayers. These people who had received the money for their bonds, would have to use that money in some form of investment. Hence, it would get into circulation."

"In the common phraseology of the street, 'we are willing to try anything once.' And in view of the fact that money, in terms of commodities, is high, this certainly ought to raise the price of commodities."

DRIVE AGAINST COYOTE PACK ARRANGED BY WALTON LEAGUE; TECHNOCRACY IS CRITICIZED

FULLERTON, Jan. 12.—John Clark was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange a drive on a pack of coyotes attacking the ring-necked pheasants recently given sanctuary in Hillcrest park and territory north of here, at a meeting of the Isaac Walton league last night. This pack of coyotes has become so bold as to come within a few hundred feet of the park buildings, and a farmer living nearby said one caught a pheasant in his yard. Further announcement of the coyote kill will be made later.

Other business included preliminary discussion of plans to sponsor a Boy Scout troop. John C. Gregory, president, said members of the Scout committee will attend the next session and will outline their desires on the plan.

Isaac Waltonians took action in recommending the state legislators to refrain from transferring any funds from the California state game and fish commission to another department and asking them to assist in getting through legislation that will call for issuance of a visible hunting and fishing license, such a tag that fastens around the arm, or some other such easily seen mark.

Preceding a lecture by O. H. Price, of Pasadena, in which he warned people to study Technocracy carefully before endorsing it, declaring that any program that promises economic security to human beings makes slaves of the human beings, T. K. Gowen showed motion pictures, taken by himself, with him, with William Potter and Mayor William Hale, all city councilmen, and John Gregory visited Hoover dam and Boulder city. He also showed some motion pictures put out by the Rod and Reel.

In his talk, the speaker declared that Technocracy is not a solution to the problems, after giving some figures to show that the problem isn't one of unemployment caused by introduction of machinery. He said the solution is one of distribution and credit, and his figures, based on employment in manufacturing and steel industry, showed the one side of the picture, that more men of the total number of employed were employed in 1932 than in 1900.

Price said those advancing Technocracy are not scientists and that it is an effort to popularize a dream. He declared that Technocracy is similar to Socialism in that it would abolish the money standard, and is similar to the theories advanced by Bellamy in his book "Looking Backward" during a pause 30 years ago.

Victory Buttons Given Auxiliary Of Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 12.—Two letters of thanks and commendation, one from Colonel Mattison, chief of the Legionnaires of the Veterans' home at Sawtelle, and one from Mrs. Mildred Reece, head nurse of the children's Orthopaedic hospital at Los Angeles, were read at the Legion auxiliary meeting Monday evening, thanking the auxiliary and the junior auxiliary members for the presents that were sent from their organizations to the above mentioned institutions. The members also received their victory buttons from state headquarters rewarding them for the special effort that they put forth in their recent membership drive.

Following the social and business sessions, bridge was played and refreshments were served. Mrs. Lola Anderson won first prize and Mrs. Everett A. Rea won the second.

Mrs. R. Kennell and Mrs. Betty Tins were hostesses for the evening.

The local auxiliary president, Mrs. Iris Brown, with members, Mrs. George Gordon, Violet Webster, Joe Payne and Julia Wilcox attended the Orange county council meeting at Buena Park.

The short business session held at the clubhouse closed with selection of Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. B. M. Selover, Mrs. Jeannette Blattner and Mrs. Schultz as members of the nominating committee to select members for officers for the next season.

Mrs. P. J. Ton announced Mrs. E. E. Smith, president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs, and Southern District International Relations chairman, will speak at the January 24 meeting of the club.

SONG SERVICE IS SLATED FOR SUNDAY

COSTA MESA, Jan. 12.—A community sing will be held at the Church of Christ, located one block east of Newport boulevard on Walnut street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to which all people of the harbor district are invited, the Rev. Ira Brownfield, pastor, announced today.

Plan To Change Control Of Fruit Patrol Is Opposed

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 12.—At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night the suggestion that the county fruit patrol, which is under the jurisdiction of the district attorney's office be placed under the direction of the sheriff's office was opposed and the secretary was authorized to so state in a letter to the Orange county grand jury.

The body voted to do all in its power to aid the proposed campaign in which the Midway City Woman's club and the fire department will join to re-finance the local community building. Claude A. Harlow, chairman, represents the chamber of commerce on committees which are to meet from three civic organizations to formulate plans for this purpose.

The chamber is to act as host to the Associated Chambers on the last Tuesday evening of this month and at a meeting of the local chamber called for the evening of January 24, details of the meeting will be arranged.

The "Buy American" plan was approved in talks made by members.

Name Officers For Daughters

ORANGETHORPE, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Hazel Smalley was hostess to the Malvern Hill Helpers, the social auxiliary of the Daughters of Veterans, at her home on West Orangethorpe avenue Monday for a covered dish luncheon. Election of officers followed the luncheon, with Mrs. Maude Thompson chosen as president, Mrs. Mary Robertson, vice president; Mrs. Mabel Moll, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Ota Everett, press correspondent.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Robertson at 113 East Glenwood, Fullerton, February 13. Those present were Comrade Van Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Updyke, Mrs. Jennie Minton, Mrs. Ota Everett, Mrs. Monte Porter, Miss Emma Vest, Miss Elizabeth Oliver, Mrs. Mabel Moll, Mrs. Mabel Davis, Mrs. Anna French, Mrs. Kate Markham, and Mrs. William Robertson, Miss Jessie Walters, of Fullerton; Mrs. Margaret Willits and Mrs. Mary Siebenhalt of Brea and Mrs. Ed Thompson of Orangethorpe.

A social afternoon was enjoyed with fancy work and piecing of quilts.

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, you food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tanned, yellow skin, pimples, dizziness, headache, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. This is the one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today.

But refuse "something just as good" for it may scribe, loosen teeth and send the section ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for.

SUPERVISORS SLASH SALARY IN COUNTY JOB

Wages of one county employee was reduced Tuesday by action of the board of supervisors, two others were reappointed at their present wage, one with increased duties and other appointive positions were taken under advisement.

The reduction of salaries is in line with the economy program adopted by the supervisors at the time of accepting the reduced county budget for 1932-33 and, in the cases where salaries are being reduced at this time, marks the second cut since July when all appointive officers and employees received 10 per cent reductions in pay.

Frank Lamar was reappointed custodian of the county garage at a salary of $200 monthly. Prior to July he was drawing $240. At that time it was reduced to $216 and yesterday his salary was cut $16, the reduction effective as of January 1.

G. M. Benedict was reappointed gardener at a monthly salary of $75. In July his pay was cut from $125 to the present figure. Fay Irwin also was reappointed at a monthly salary of $150. This is the same salary he has been receiving but his duties have been increased. Work at the park formerly was handled by two men, each receiving $150 monthly. Sometime ago as a part of the economy program one man was dropped and Irwin handles the entire job.

PARACHUTE RIGGER ADMITS THREATS

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Odell C. Boyles, a parachute rigger, has confessed, police said, that he wrote letters threatening to kidnap or kill a daughter of the late Smith Reynolds, Winston Salem tobacco fortune heir.

Boyles and his wife were arrested by department of justice agents, E. E. Conroy, who made the arrest, said Boyles had made "a complete confession."

The confession related, Conroy said, that Boyles and his wife wrote letters to Joseph F. Cannon, wealthy textile manufacturer of Concord, N. C., demanding from $12,000 to $50,000.

for LOVE or MONEY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Mona Moran, receptionist in a Wall Street law office, goes with her childhood sweetheart, Steve Saccarelli, to a popular supper resort, the Halcyon Club. Mona supports her invalid father, mother, little sister, Kitty, and her do-well brother, Bud. Steve has been mysteriously absent for three years. He has returned, well dressed and prosperous. With no thought of impropriety, he has ordered a gown and wrap sent to Mona which, after much indecision, she wears.

At the office that day Mona has met Barry Townsend, rich and socially prominent, but refused his invitation to dine with him.

Bud Moran comes to the Halcyon Club to see Buck Harkins, the proprietor, who has underwrote connection. Mona sees her brother and fears he is associating with gangsters. Steve quiets her fears.

Lottie Carr, fashion model, dismays her escort and joins Mona and Steve. Then Steve's business partner arrives. He proves to be Barry Townsend. Barry tells Mona how Steve years before had befriended him, how together they sailed for South America and have been operating a diamond mine that Townsend inherited.

After Mona and her friends leave the supper club Harkins tells his lieutenant that Steve has the diamond, known as "The Empress of Peru." The gangsters plan to steal this diamond.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XII

The next few days passed swiftly for Mona. She was relieved about Bud, had persuaded herself that the boy she had seen that night at the Halcyon Club was someone else. Bud was working regularly now, had turned over $20 to Ma on Saturday. Kitty was doing well in school.

Steve having good-natured little Ma's indignation called Mona on the telephone. Barry Townsend haunted the office. Finally, breaking her vow not to indulge in social engagements with anyone met through the office, Mona went to lunch with Barry.

"After all, Steve introduced me," she eased her conscience. Later she went to tea with him at a smart downtown tea place while Mollie Drury relieved her at the reception desk.

Little by little, piece by piece, Mona gleaned the story of Barry's business in South America. Steve's connection with it, and the friendship between these two.

"Park and Third avenues never meet, no matter how far they go," she had told Barry significantly. Steve had been born on Third.

"You little snob!" Barry teased. "Don't you like me? Won't you forgive me for living on Park avenue?"

"Do you wish to be forgiven?"

"There's no Third avenue and no Park where Steve and I belong, Mona."

He noted her look of inquiry. "Sure. We belong there. We're going back when we've tied up a few matters of business."

"It must be a wonderful," Mona said wistfully. "No subways, no crowds, no—"

"They'd make you queen!" Barry put in.

She told Lottie what she had learned when they were spending a cozy evening together in Lottie's apartment a few evenings later. "Cooking in," as they expressed it, and having a feminine hour of chat.

It seemed that Barry Townsend's mother had been first engaged to the Mr. Townsend who was Barry's uncle and Mr. Garretson's friend.

She was half Spanish, this beautiful mother of Barry's. Wealthy and of excellent family. After being engaged to one brother she married the other. Not the elder one who had the most money, but Barry's father who was the younger.

The ill-fated fiancée never recovered from this blow and the girl's father refused to forgive her for it. She belonged to an honorable family and had failed to keep her word.

The father gave his daughter her dowry, of course, but he never spoke to her again. As a wedding gift he gave her some land in Brazil—land that had not been productive in hundreds of years.

"Maybe you'll find a diamond mine on it," the father had said. He meant it as a bitter jest but the land was, after all, in the diamond country.

Then came the amazing part. An old negress, crossing the land one day, picked up a shiny stone. It was a diamond!

Barry's father had worked the mine, had organized a syndicate for this purpose, but it had always been a joke in the Townsend family for the mine had been a source of expense instead of gain. When Barry's father died he left his entire estate to his son.

It was Steve who had helped Barry make something of this property. Steve was diplomatic in dealing with the natives. Together Steve and Barry had made good. Now Barry was back in New York trying to persuade his uncle to release money that legally would not belong to the young man until he was 30 so that they could install new dredging machinery in the mine. Steve, moreover, had found the gorgeous diamond which they called the Empress of Peru.

"Now I'll tell one," remarked Lottie drowsily, unbelievably.

The girls had cleared away the dinner—remarkably well cooked by Lottie whose frivolous air concealed many sturdy qualities. They were sitting in the little living room, dressed in two of Lottie's most attractive negligees.

Lottie was manicuring her nails and Mona, lying flat on her back, abstractedly traced scrolls in the atmosphere with one finger while she talked.

"Why don't you marry one of these diamond kings?" Lottie asked presently.

Mona made a slight grimace, charming and eloquent. "No one has asked me, silly," she said.

Lottie surveyed her nails at arm's length rather carefully. Her heart—or what she would have told you took the place of her heart—leaped strangely at these words.

She thought to herself, "Can it be that I'm falling in love with him?" By "him" Lottie meant Steve Saccarelli.

She tucked her slippered feet beneath her on the chaise longue and her eyes became pensive. Wearing blue velvet pajamas Lottie looked like a lovely blond angel. Her thoughts were interrupted by the shrill ringing of the telephone.

Lottie groaned. "Let the thing ring! We can't be bothered. Let it ring."

This was precisely what the telephone did. The instrument continued to jangle noisily until Lottie rose unwillingly, walked to the little silken bedroom and flung herself down in a chair, prepared for an exhaustive chat. Lottie was a victim of "telephonitis," once she persuaded herself to take up the receiver.

Her voice answered sharply and rather anxiously, Mona thought. Almost immediately Lottie was back in the living room.

"It's for you," she said. "For me?" Mona looked blank. "Why, no one knows I'm here—no even Mother!"

Lottie shrugged. "Then it's someone who took great pains to locate you," she observed.

Mona took up the telephone, and said "Hello." The voice at the other end of the wire was that of Morgan, Barry Townsend's valet.

Mr. Townsend presented his compliments and asked if the young ladies would care to come up for a late supper? The gentlemen were dressing, and they had instructed Morgan to call several numbers until Miss Moran was located.

As a matter of fact Morgan had been instructed to call out "the police, the fire department and the marines" but the discreet valet understood these exaggerations and modified his instructions to suit the circumstance.

The car would call for the young ladies in half an hour, he said. "Let's go," urged Mona. "Do, Lottie! I can't go alone. Steve's been busy at some business or other and I haven't seen him for an age." "All of two days I'll bet! However, I like to see the young folks get together and far be it from me, Lottie Carr, to ruin any love-lorn maiden's plans!"

The blue velvet pajama jacket went hurling across the room, caught on a picture frame over Lottie's bed. She burrowed in the closet, selecting an evening gown for herself and another for Mona.

Mona wheeled about. "Love-lorn? What do you mean by that?"

"What do I mean by love-lorn? Why, just that. Love-lorn. You're head over heels in love."

"Don't be ridiculous, Lottie."

Lottie held her gown, a soft white halo of chiffon, above her lovely head. She let it fall and instantly she was smiling her provoking smile.

"So I'm ridiculous?" she said, settling the gown carefully about her hips and surveying the effect in the mirror. Then she looked back at Mona. "Ridiculous? Not at all! You're in love, my girl, or my name isn't Lottie Sherlock. William Burns Carr."

"Do you think I'm in love with Steve Saccarelli? Why, you know I'm not!"

"I didn't say Steve. You're in love with Barry Townsend!"

"Barry? What in the world makes you think that?"

"Oh, I read it in the Gazette. Now hurry! Let's be off to the festivities. And, by the way, I'll take care of Steve. He won't mind!"

"I'll call up Bud," Mona decided as they were about to leave the apartment. "I'll tell him I'm going to be home late."

Her telephone call was promptly followed by another. It was a message from Buck Harkins to Bud Moran.

"Go after her in a couple of hours," Buck instructed. "Tell her your mother is sick, see? And while she's putting on her hat get an impression of the door. Keep your eyes open, Kid, and your mouth shut. It's a safe bet Steve will show those girls that diamond tonight!"

OLD CHORAL UNION MAY BE REVIVED

Discussion of plans to reorganize the Orange County Choral Union, disbanded since 1927, will take place at a meeting of Orange county music leaders which will be held Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, it was learned today from D. C. Clankoff.

Ellis Rhodes, former Santa Ana vocalist and instructor who is now in Los Angeles, will attend the meeting. He headed the Orange County Choral Union when it was in existence here. Other prominent members of the organization are planning to attend.

Whether or not it is feasible to present light operas, the customary performances given in the past, at this time will probably decide the outcome of the discussions, it is said.

Announcements

There is to be a district rally of Standard Bearers of Methodist churches Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock in the main dining room of the Santa Ana First Methodist church. Dinner will be served. Mrs. A. W. Golder of San Diego will be in charge of the program. Grace Pepper Smith, a missionary, will be the speaker.

Modern Literature section members of Ebbl society have announced a program of special interest for Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the peacock room of the clubhouse, when A. H. Young will be presented as speaker on a subject pertaining to the correct use of English. Mr. Young is an exponent of the Miller system of correct English, and because of the general interest attached to his subject, the section is making the meeting open to all Ebbl members and their friends.

University Women of the county will be enlightened on the school problems faced by the Carnegie Commission at the time of that body's appointment and on the recommendations resulting from its study at a meeting of the A. A. U. W. to be held at 8 o'clock tonight by Paul E. Webb, principal of the Huntington Park high school and a commission assistant. Mrs. Charles C. Briscoe, president, has stated that the meeting, to be held in the Y. W. C. A. at 8 o'clock, will be open to all interested, regardless of membership.

The Business Women's Gym class which is to be launched tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the Y. W. clubrooms under the direction of Miss Maude Moore, has been arranged with special thought for the convenience of the city's typists, teachers, stenographers and those whose activities are bounded by definite office hours. Miss Moore plans a careful course of Swedish gymnastics and rhythmic exercises with a view to giving complete relaxation as well as bringing into play muscles that otherwise are seldom used by one in sedentary employment. The hour chosen will allow the business woman to proceed directly from office to Y. W. rooms, have a period of exercises, and reach home in ample time for dinner and evening plans. Other Friday classes will continue their established schedules at 9 and 10 a. m. and the Y. M. C. A. pool will be open to women from 2 to 5 p. m.

Chapter A.R. P. E. O., will be hostess to an Orange county P. E. O. reciprocity meeting Friday in Santa Ana Country club, where luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

Birthday Honors Paid Hostess to Her Luncheon

In her plans to celebrate the birthday anniversary of her fiancé, Virgil Harman of Anaheim, Miss Juanita Bierbower of Ocean avenue and Newport road, planned a "lightful party" Monday evening.

A selection of gifts formed an additional surprise to the honor guest, and after his examination of the attractive things which his friends had selected, Miss Bierbower served a delicious midnight supper. A moulded vegetable salad was served with sandwiches and various relishes, with a handsome decorated birthday cake and coffee completing the menu.

Guests at the enjoyable affair were all young married people, to whose ranks the hostess and honor guest soon will be admitted. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Laroe, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sopher, Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller and Mr. Harman and Miss Bierbower.

Those present, other than the honored guests were the hostesses, Mesdames Lewis, Vinson, McMillan and Pope, with Mesdames George Hubbard, R. J. Leonard, J. H. Northrup, W. B. McConnell, John Shaw, Walter Edkins, Hugh Wiley, F. N. Chavin, Hugh Whiteman, Earl Landley, Charles Whitte, James Tingley, W. W. Hyde, Fred Barel, David Wolfson, Lee Stradlerman, W. Berry, William Strassberger, Kate Sutton, Clara Tollaro, Henry Meyer, W. O. Patterson, C. E. Morse, Hugh Henry, Walter Wright, J. J. Henry, Nellie Young, Elise Bohling, and the Mesdames Myrtle Rutherford and Henrietta Bohling.

Ebbl Section Enjoys Program on History Of Chinaware

"China, Old and New," provided an interesting topic for the recent meeting of Third Household Economics section of Ebbl society, held in the home of Mrs. E. T. Battey, 110 South Birch street, with Mrs. C. F. Crose as co-hostess.

Lovely pieces of china, in old-fashioned patterns as well as the more modern expressions in ceramics, were on display. Mrs. Crose read a paper telling of the manner in which the term "China" became applied to tableware. In the 17th century, porcelain ware, etc., became known as "Chinaware," when it was brought from the far east, and was found to differ from pottery made in Europe.

Mrs. Crose brought out that some of the finest china is made in England and France, with Florida supplying much of the clay used in its production. Mrs. F. L. Andrews gave an equally interesting talk, telling of the large china factory in East Liverpool, Ohio, where much of the clay used comes from Texas. Also, she told of the Catalina clay which it is thought will be used extensively in the near future.

The hostesses served refreshments during the social hour which followed the program.

Union Auxiliary Plans Dinner Party

Discussing plans for their next social meeting, and taking care of business matters for the new year, members of the Women's Auxiliary to Santa Ana Typographical Union No. 879 met Monday night in the home of Mrs. C. M. Marvin, South Ross street.

A covered-dish dinner for auxiliary members and their husbands is to be held in two weeks in the Chicken Shack on the highway between Orange and Anaheim. There will be a white elephant gift exchange at this time. Mrs. R. C. Butler, president, was in charge of the business session.

The hostess served refreshments during the social time with which the meeting was concluded.

Those present were Mesdames William Lawrence, M. L. Sherwood, V. C. Shidler, J. W. Jones, J. W. Parkinson, J. C. Hurst, J. E. Swanger, F. E. Stillwell, C. W. Brukeman, J. H. Randall, J. H. Peterson, R. C. Butler and the Mesdames W. B. Marvin.

Ebbl Juniors Devote Successful Evening To Norwegian

The specific accomplishments of the Juniors in their work as "Peer Gynt," "The Dolls' House" and "Jenny of the People," as considered Tuesday night by Victor Ebbel of Anaheim before the Juniors of Ebbl Music and Drama section, proved so controversial as to provoke a lively discussion following the speaker's review. A dozen members and guests of this group met with Mrs. Robert S. Wade, 2388 Heliotrope drive, for the session.

The discussion growing out of the talk broadened to include views on other playthings and on various types of drama before members of the small audience were invited to enjoy tea poured by Mrs. Lynn Crawford.

The evening had included, in addition to the literary features, a musical interlude charmingly filled by Georgia Belle Walton, whose choices were governed by the program's mood, her selections including the first three movements of Grieg's "Peer Gynt"; "Morning Mood," "Asa's Death" and "Anitra's Dance." Her accompaniments were played by Mrs. Maxine Bryte.

Assembled for the meeting were Miss Mary Bowyer, Miss Georgia Walton, Mesdames Maxine Bryte, R. C. Harris, Frederick C. Elliott, Lynn Crawford, George Walker, Harold Moomaw, Robert S. Wade and several guests. Mrs. G. Bradley, Mrs. E. F. Bruns, Mrs. George Glover and the speaker, Victor Rees.

Eastern Star

Appointment of committees to serve throughout the year was made Monday night at the meeting of Santa Ana chapter, O. E. S., held in Masonic temple. Mrs. Jennie Shippe, worthy matron, and Ray Spaul, worthy patron, presided.

Those named were, board of trustees, James Austin, Dr. C. T. Cleland and Elizabeth Kloss; auditing committee, Joe Herschler, George Shippe and Florence Wright; examining committee, Nellie Sylvester, Alice Hunter and Glenn Lyman; master of lights, Lloyd Folger; official prompter, Henrietta Roberts.

Mrs. Lloyd Folger, who was unable to be present when installation ceremonies were conducted, was installed Monday night as associate matron. She carried a flower bouquet of red Hollywood roses and sweet peas, presented to her by Harvey Dimmitt, associate patron. Mrs. Elizabeth Kloss held the office of associate matron until Mrs. Folger.

The junior past matron and patron, Mrs. W. J. Dean and George Shippe, were escorted east, as were a group of honored guests including Mrs. Jane Parry Foster of Long Beach, deputy grand matron of the 54th district.

Others escorted were various visiting worthy matrons, including Laura Nelson, Anna May Irwin, Mabel Childs, Maude Aupperle all of Long Beach; Thelma Vanderleek, Norwalk; Inice Orton, Huntington Beach; Helen Lewis, Fullerton and Marion Wallace, Hermosa chapter, Santa Ana.

Worthy patrons escorted to the east included Arthur Rees, Norwalk, and W. B. McConnell, Hermosa chapter, Santa Ana.

Refreshments were served on the second floor dining room. Committee members were Viola Andres, Lewis Boyle, Hattie Bassler, Della Allender, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Andres, Mr. and Mrs. James Austin, Mrs. Mabel Barge, Christina Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Barnard, Glenn Lyman and Harry Roberts.

Mrs. Al Adrian and Mrs. Flora Bruns were in charge of card games following. Mrs. Roland Kloss and Harry Roberts scored high while Mrs. Gertrude Walden and Will Lambert were consoled.

YOU and your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ganber of Sandusky, O., were guests Tuesday and Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krock, 1501 West Fifth street.

Mrs. W. B. McConnell, 1218 Orange avenue, has been in Los Angeles the past week taking a Spencer corset training course. She will succeed Mrs. Ida Glover, who recently passed away.

Mrs. Thomas Lilly and son, Leonard Lilly, 1214 South Ross street, are spending several days with Mrs. Harlin Burdum in Glendale.

H. F. Makosky is reported convalescing at his home, 120 East Eleventh street, after a three weeks' illness. Mr. Makosky has been under the care of his two daughters, Mrs. Alice Nutt of El Segundo, and Mrs. Hugh Proctor of Coachella.

W. I. Davis, 424 South Parton street, has been confined to his home for a period with influenza.

Mrs. Ruby Holabird Starankeulcz, general surgical supervisor of nurses at Orange county hospital, was reported today as making satisfactory improvement from the effects of a major operation which she underwent over a week ago.

Daughters, Sons of Veterans Combine Installations

A plan of installation which was at once a concession to tradition and a source of additional beauty and prestige was adopted by Santa Ana Daughters and Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War when they united Tuesday night in a joint ceremony of installation presented in the Pythian hall before a crowd of unusual numbers.

Ranking officers of president and commander of Sarah A. Rounds Tent No. 10 and on Camp No. 12 were assumed by Mrs. Rowena Groat and by Earl R. Elliott, who succeeded, respectively, Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt and W. H. Hamill.

Decorations were eminently appropriate, numerous baskets holding sheafs of red, white and blue flowers, mixed with fernery. Among guests assembled for the occasion were Monte Porter and Mary Holven, department first and fourth color bearers, while other executives taking prominent part were Mrs. Eva Bell and Mrs. Helen Lurker, installing officer and guide, respectively.

Daughters Install

Taking oaths of office in the wives' order were Rowena Groat, president; Addie Gardner, senior vice president; Luella Hill junior vice president; Jessie Overton, chaplain; Esther Gardner, treasurer; Carrie Seaton, musician; Lena G. Hewitt, first council member; Geraldine Beall, third council member; Olive Willard, patriotic instructor; Beren Baker, secretary; Minnie Cowan, press correspondent; Minnie McClure, guide; Nellie Parker, guard; Gladys Ward, assistant guard; Ella Smith, first color bearer; Florence Perry, second color bearer; Pearl Nelson, fourth color bearer.

Gifts, whose presentations were accompanied by words of appreciation for service accomplished this term, went from the tent to Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt, retiring president; Mrs. Eva Bell and Mrs. Helen Lurker, from Mrs. Hewitt to retiring officers; and from Mrs. Groat to incoming executives.

Sole featuring the exercises were offered by Mrs. Lulu Johnson and Mrs. Cora Graham, accompanied by Miss Carole Seaton.

Sons Take Office

With officiating staff members including Dr. Ralph R. Barrett, Huntington Park, department senior vice commander, and W. L. Somerby, as installing guide, exercises of installation were launched by the Sons of the Union Veterans of the Civil War. F. W. Crouch, department patriotic instructor, was among visitors in attendance.

Leadership for the coming term was assumed by Earl R. Elliott, commander; H. C. Wiley, senior vice commander; J. H. Mitchell, junior vice commander; W. H. Hamill, A. A. Holt, C. F. Millen, camp council; W. F. Somerby, secretary; E. J. Parker, treasurer; E. A. Bell, chaplain; J. R. Moore, patriotic instructor; C. E. Brayton, color bearer; W. J. Davis, guide; Charles B. Morgan, guard.

A social period followed, members and visitors being served refreshments in the dining room by a committee consisting of W. I. Davis, J. R. Moore, W. H. Hamill, C. F. Millen.

Tent's History Reviewed
Milestones in the interesting history of the Santa Ana tent were recalled at the service by officers and members of the local Daughters. D. U. V. women were reminded that, instituted August 11, 1911, the tent had been named after Commander Albert S. Holbrook, who had served under Major William Rounds, whose wife was Sarah A. Rounds.

Of the 24 women listed as charter members, ten have carried on the work of the tent through 21 years, officers remembered. This revered group includes Mae Josephine Thomas, Addie H. P. Gardner, Elizabeth Adams, Maude Powere Perkins, Maude J. Wallace, Eva J. Bell, Lydia B. Scammon, Esther Patterson Gardner, Carrie R. Smith, Lucy M. Browne.

Honor also was accorded the comrades assisting the Daughters with their work over a lengthy period. These comrades were A. P. Lawrence, O. M. Hefner, H. W. Crandall, M. Hungerford, John Dealy, A. S. Holbrook, P. B. Glover.

Mrs. W. B. McConnell, 1218 Orange avenue, has been in Los Angeles the past week taking a Spencer corset training course. She will succeed Mrs. Ida Glover, who recently passed away.

Mrs. Thomas Lilly and son, Leonard Lilly, 1214 South Ross street, are spending several days with Mrs. Harlin Burdum in Glendale.

H. F. Makosky is reported convalescing at his home, 120 East Eleventh street, after a three weeks' illness. Mr. Makosky has been under the care of his two daughters, Mrs. Alice Nutt of El Segundo, and Mrs. Hugh Proctor of Coachella.

W. I. Davis, 424 South Parton street, has been confined to his home for a period with influenza.

Mrs. Ruby Holabird Starankeulcz, general surgical supervisor of nurses at Orange county hospital, was reported today as making satisfactory improvement from the effects of a major operation which she underwent over a week ago.

Association Officers To Be Entertained Here Overnight

Opportunity of meeting a group of P. T. A. leaders, including Mrs. William J. Hayes, state president of the association is to be afforded dinner guests of Mrs. Mary B. Robertson tonight, when she entertains in her home, 1317 North Main street.

Mrs. Sam Preble and Mrs. Robertson went to Inglewood this morning to attend a First district P. T. A. meeting, and on their return home tonight are to be accompanied by the guests, who will remain overnight in the Robertson home.

They include, in addition to Mrs. Hayes, whose home is in Burlingame; Mrs. O. Miller Robertson of Arlington, third vice president; Mrs. B. C. Clark of Glendora, fourth vice president; Mrs. J. R. Spann of Burlingame, life membership chairman, and Mrs. Kenney, president of the 23rd district. They will be guests at breakfast in the Robinson home tomorrow, and then will attend the meeting of the Fourth district P. T. A. at Newport Heights high school. Other interested workers will have the opportunity of meeting the special guests at the meeting tomorrow.

For dinner tonight, the out of town guests and their hostess, Mrs. Robinson, will be joined by Mrs. Sam Preble, Mrs. Earl Morris, Mrs. Neal Beisel, all of this city and Mrs. R. W. Marvin, of Anaheim, district president.

Japanese School Tots Given American Flag

When a little party of Daughters of Union Veterans of Sarah A. Rounds tent motored to Talbert Monday afternoon, it was for the interesting purpose of presenting to the children of the Japanese school of that community, a handsome American flag from the department of California and Nevada.

Mrs. Lena Gulick Hewitt, department chief of staff, purchased the flag and made the presentation, and the flag was accepted in the same patriotic spirit by the young Japanese principal of the school. Accompanying Mrs. Hewitt were Mrs. Ida Mae Clem, chairman of Americanization, with the local tent, and Mrs. Roy Beall, who gave an informal talk, explaining to the interested children the symbolical meaning of the colors.

The children were enthusiastic over the gift, and entered with interest into plans for special rites which concluded with the colors fluttering on the flag pole and everyone repeating the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

D. A. V. Military Ball Committee Begins Operations

When the Military ball committee, made up of members of Jack Fisher chapter and auxiliary, D. A. V., and various interested citizens of Orange county, meets next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the A. G. Flagg home, 1320 North Broadway, it is probable that its members will reach a decision as to where the annual event is to be held.

Several places are under consideration, according to Major Earl B. Hawks, commander of the chapter, and of course the choice of Wednesday night, February 22, as the date for the function, was almost a foregone conclusion, as the ball is planned annually to coincide with patriotic celebrations in honor of Washington's Birthday.

A short preliminary meeting was held this week with Mrs. Flagg, the main business being the outlining of committees preparatory to launching actual work of planning for the ball. It has been pointed out that the need of funds with which to aid disabled veterans to meet their complicated problems, is greater this year than ever before, so, aware of the warm interest always given their efforts by the county in general, chapter members are anticipating an increased interest and co-operation this year.

Dr. Tremain to Spend Several Weeks Here

Although her convalescence has been a tedious one, Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain, 428 West Amerige street, Fullerton, has so far recovered from the long and critical illness which she underwent in the early autumn, as to be able to come to Santa Ana for a few weeks for recuperation in the home of her mother, Mrs. N. E. Vance, 420 West First street.

Dr. Tremain's present visit to her former home since her recovery from the serious illness was assured. She was here for the Christmas holiday and again to spend New Year's with her mother.

So many friends are making it a point to call on her since her improvement made it possible to receive guests, and Sunday was a day of many happy reunions. Among the guests entertained were old friends from Unadilla, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Flisch, who are in the Southland for the late winter. Others included Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Vance, Mrs. Estelle Summers and Dr. Marie Thorsen of Los Angeles, and J. F. Delaporte of Milwaukee, Wis.

Today's Recipe

Beans and Potatoes
1 No. 2 can small lima beans
6 small potatoes, parboiled
1 large mild onion
4 tablespoons melted butter
Salt and Pepper
1 teaspoon vinegar

I am giving you the quick way to prepare this dish for it doesn't seem sensible to me to use fuel to cook what can be bought already cooked—the lima beans. If you insist on using dry limas, parboil them and cook the usual way. Half an hour before the beans are done add the peeled raw potatoes and continue the cooking.

Open the can of beans and empty into a kettle together with the juice. Bring to a boil, drop in the small peeled potatoes, cover and boil until the potatoes are done. Drain the vessel and put the beans and cooked potatoes in a baking dish, arrange the onion, sliced thin, over the vegetables, and pour on the melted butter mixed with the vinegar, salt and pepper. Tip the dish on one side during the final cooking and bake with the butter gravy.

This dish carries 1200 calories and four portions.

Lima beans are one of the most important protein-bearing vegetables. However it is a type which

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Breakfast
1 glass of orange juice (about 5 1/2 ounces)
2-3 cup cooked rice with 1/2 cup whole milk, no sugar
1 cup coffee with boiled skim milk.

Calory total, 320

This is another hurry-up breakfast. In case it does not show sufficient speed a dry cereal—puffed rice—may be substituted for the cooked rice.

When this breakfast appears one is at first struck by its seeming meagerness. Take it slowly, savoring flavors and enjoying them. Chew each mouthful properly and one of the secrets of keeping weight down perpetually will be learned right there.

The eye is bigger than the stomach and the sense of taste bigger than both: eat slowly to satisfy that exacting sense of taste, and in so doing no more is taken than the diet allows.

Don't forget the importance of the daily bath while on a diet: when the body burns up so much fat tissue in reducing much of the "ash" is washed away through perspiration and through the pores when perspiration is not taking place. You can see how very important it is to have an unclogged skin.

MELODY QUARTET TO BE CONTINUED

Immediate and whole-hearted was the response of the public last night to the New Year resolution policy of the Orange theater, under which a new low general admission price is offered. As a result arrangements are under way to present a series of super screen and stage programs.

The Melody Four quartet will be presented in a new jamboree of melody and mirth every Wednesday and Thursday night, as a result of the hit made last night. This quartet is appearing on the Orange stage again tonight as a portion of the big triple feature program now being presented. On the screen there are two major screen productions, "If I Had a Million" with Gary Cooper and 14 other famous stars; and "No More Orchids," an appealing love story featuring Carole Lombard.

The program opening tomorrow for a two-day showing consists of "Three On a Match" with Warren William; and "Speed Demon" with William Collier, Jr.

requires the combination of milk to make it an efficient protein, so I think either a milk soup or a dessert using much milk would be in order. Baked custard would fill the bill for me. How about you?

The next time you make chocolate pie try this way and see how you like it—I think it is a great improvement over the starchy old type.

To the usual amount of chocolate cornstarch mixture add the yolks of 2 eggs for each pie and stir while cooking. As soon as the filling cools combine with the stiffly beaten whites and pile in the baked pie shells.

Wee Duncy started singing. He seemed just as happy as could be. "We're just a band of little boys," he sang, "out having fun. We slip and slide upon the ice, but, even so, we think it's nice. We've found it's hard to stand up, every time we start to run."

Then Scouty cried, "I'll add a verse. Don't blame me if it sounds much worse. I know my voice is not so good, but any way, I'll sing." And then his voice rang clear and strong, as they all traveled right along. The words were funny and they made his verse a crazy thing.

"We're pushing Mrs. Rabbit now, and we will get her home somehow. Of course she's rather heavy and it's well we're bound down hill."

"My goodness, if we'd chance to stop, I know there'd be a sudden flop. But we will be real careful, so as not to cause a spill."

"Ha, ha!" The tinkles laughed out loud. Said Duncy, "I suppose you're proud, but frankly, you were 'way off key. Oh, don't sing any more."

"I won't," said Scouty, "cause our ride is over. Just ahead I've spied some little baby rabbits. I know what they're waiting for."

The mother rabbit left the sled. "I've brought you bunnies food," she said. "I've also brought you some new friends who have been kind to me."

"Now, all of you sit down to eat. I'll soon prepare a real nice treat." One of the bunnies said, "Those carrots look real good to me."

A real long log lay right nearby. The whole bunch heard wee Windy cry. "We'll sit right on the log. 'Twill be a very comfy place." And then the food was handed out. It brought forth quite a merry shout. One of the Tinkles smeared fresh corn all over his hand and face.

BONERS

The cannibals gave the explorers an unusually kind welcome. They even wanted to keep them for dinner.

We should refrain from criticism of the sex that has made this nation what we are today.

This picture was painted by Millet. It contains a man and a church steeple. The man and the woman are very poor, they have been digging potatoes because they need them to live on. The potatoes look very small. Just at sunset they hear a bell ring. It is the angelus, it means they must pray. So they bow their heads and pray for bigger potatoes.

FULFILLING USEFUL FUNCTION

A few days ago the Brea Progress contained an editorial, in which The Register and its publisher were taken to do, because of an impression that the editor of the Brea Progress had that the publisher of The Register considered the weekly papers of small account, and rather an economic waste.

He does grant that we spoke well, but, he says, condescendingly of the weekly, and gives in conclusion a compliment, for which we are grateful, when he says: "We still desire to say that The Register is a whale of a newspaper in anybody's language."

The truth is we think the editor has entirely misinterpreted the attitude of The Register on the weekly paper or community paper. We not only believe that the weekly or community paper will not be misplaced, but we believe it would be a serious calamity if it were.

The most dependable men in the world are the men who are interested in folks, who know them, who watch the lives of the father and mother and the children, and their neighbors, and are interested in them, and anxious about them. There is a warmth and sympathy and dependability upon such interest.

The daily paper, published in a distant town, even though it may carry items of a personal nature concerning the community or the smaller town, still cannot bring to that community the spirit of sympathy and personal relationship which the home paper locally edited, can do. We are endeavoring to cover the world field and the county, and even the community, and we believe we fill pretty well the office for outside news. But we do not believe the best daily paper can take the place of the community or the local weekly, and in fact the better the daily, the less it is able to fill that particular niche.

It may be in competition for advertising that there is something of a contest between the business of the daily and the weekly. But we can conceive of no finer thing for the readers of a community than to have an interesting local paper, devoted to the personal items and local doings of the community, written by one who lives in the community, whom the people know, and with whom they associate. This makes for the deepest and most lasting human values.

We have often regretted that the weekly papers have looked upon The Register as a rival. We can well believe that, in the spirit of co-operation and joining of hands, we could accomplish better and finer things for Orange county by mutually supplementing each other's work.

COMING CHANGES IN THE SUPREME COURT

An inside report from Washington states that the Supreme court will be liberalized during the Roosevelt administration. At present the court is about evenly balanced. There are three justices,—Brandeis, Stone, and Cardozo,—who are generally on the liberal side. There are four judges, Vandeventer, Butler, MacReynolds, and Sutherland,—who are always found on the conservative side. The Chief Justice, Mr. Hughes, is looked upon as a middle-of-the-roader; while Justice Roberts is inclined toward the liberal and the progressive side. This accounts for the many divisions of the court in its decisions,—many of them five to four.

It should be said that the integrity of none of the members of the court is questioned. They simply disagree in their social attitude and their legal attitude. The four conservatives are in the main strict constructionists of the Constitution. The three pronounced liberals believe that the unchanging Constitution must be interpreted in the light of changing conditions. The two middle-of-the-roads differ from the other seven as to the character of the changes warranted by the Constitution as a somewhat flexible document.

There is a report that Justice MacReynolds will take advantage of the retirement age, and that Justice Vandeventer feels the limitations of age coming upon him. Justice Brandeis is 76, but has no intention of retiring. If the changes noted do take place, it is certain that the men to be appointed by President Roosevelt will be of the class of Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo. It may be recalled that during the campaign Mr. Roosevelt referred to the time when every branch of the government was under Republican control, and he specifically mentioned the Supreme court. This was a tactical blunder, but it revealed Mr. Roosevelt's attitude. Unquestionably that attitude will color the appointments which he will make.

It was Mr. Dooley, the humorist, who wrote many years ago that the "Supreme Court follows the illicit returns." It will be found that there is more truth than humor in that statement. As public sentiment moves forward our institutions move forward also. The militant reactionary gives up the fight, and the battle for progress changes to another front. We are on the eve of such a change of front.

PROPOSES END TO FORCED LIQUIDATION

President Hoover makes the suggestion, through a message to the Senate and House of Representatives, that legislation be enacted to end the forced liquidation, through foreclosures and bankruptcies of concerns, which might under restrictions have a chance to re-organize and carry on.

The evils of which the President speaks, of creditors throwing debtors into bankruptcy, when even many of the creditors think that there would be an opportunity to save them, are well known to even the casual observer. The statement of the situation is pretty well given in one paragraph of the President's message. He says:

Under existing law, even where majorities of the creditors desire to arrange fair and equitable re-adjustments with their debtors, their plans may not be consummated without prohibitive delay and expense, usually attended by the obstruction of minority creditors who oppose such settlements in the hope that the fear of ruinous liquidation will induce the immediate settlement of their claims.

He then discusses the proposal in this language:

The proposals to amend the Bankruptcy Act by providing for the relief of debtors who seek the protection of the court for the purpose of readjusting their affairs with their creditors carry no stigma of an adjudication in bankruptcy, and are designed to afford the protection of the court to the debtor and his property, while an opportunity is afforded the debtor and a majority of his creditors to arrange an equitable settlement of his affairs, which on approval of the court will become binding upon minority creditors.

We believe that the President's suggestion will find a responsive chord everywhere through the United States, and the legislation aiding in the correction of these difficulties will be promptly enacted.

"A large nose is a sign of brains," observes a writer. And a sharp nose, it is added, indicates perseverance and industry. Probably because it is kept close to the grindstone.

KREUGER, CHAMPION SWINDLER

It seems that Kreuger, the Match King, makes all the other swindlers look like pikers in this country. Kreuger did everything upon a grand scale. He forged national bonds. He reared a financial empire upon deceit and trickery that has ruined several institutions, rocked many, and spread disaster in every direction.

It is known now that he carried on his seriously crooked work for not less than 15 years. His record evidences that you cannot depend upon the reputation of a man, however well established, and particularly when he is dealing in enterprises in so many different localities. Individuals and society cannot avoid being "taken in." Just as "new occasions teach new duties," so does every day bring the new schemes, by which the skillful crook deceives money out of the trusting widow or maybe a big financier.

But the highways of the days is strewn with the wrecks of this kind of people. You will find them in the penitentiary and in the suicide's grave. They are the losers in the end. The agony of mind through which Kreuger went, before he took his own life, was a punishment for which all his money and power and glory did not compensate.

The cry from overseas for a clean slate on war debts reminds us there's been a lot of sponging in that regard lately.

WATER PROGRAM UNDER DISCUSSION

The Register would call the attention of the readers to the news out of Sacramento concerning the $160,000,000 water program for the state.

The various aspects of it will come up in some form or other, for a vote under bond issues, if the legislation is enacted. It is a great deal easier to get the facts as they are coming out, than to possibly search for them later. They will be discussed from time to time.

OVERNIGHT TO NEW YORK

We are told that we will soon be able to regularly ride from New York to Los Angeles in 16 hours.

After a while we will find people who have traveled much, but have seen nothing. You cannot see this country on a sixteen hour trip to New York, and America is worth seeing. And maybe we would be better prepared to accomplish, either in New York or Los Angeles, if we knew more of what lies between.

By Rocket to Europe

Oakland Tribune

The man who looks forward to a European trip as a leisurely adventure to bring repose as well as varied experience, will not welcome the prediction of Professor Piccard, the stratosphere man, that a rocket ship will be built to take passengers from America to the continent in one-half an hour. Gone for those who seize upon this craft for their journey will be the sun baths on the deck and all those other pleasures of an ocean voyage. Professor Piccard does more than predict. He says he can build such a ship.

On the journey from Southampton to their first anchorage off the coast of Cape Cod, the Pilgrims on the Mayflower spent sixty-three days. It is recorded that when Franklin and Adams went to negotiate the peace with Britain they were about six weeks on the water. Then came the steamships to bring the time down to two weeks. When a liner reduced it to six days the world was thrilled. Now superliners do it in four. Professor Piccard talks of a half hour's journey in a rocket!

It is possible, remarks the Boston Transcript, that there are some people "who would like to go to Europe in a rocket in the time that it takes to travel from Boston to Lynn, but we are of the opinion that to the average human being the method would have few attractions. Four days is short enough for a normal journey to Southampton; and the bright blue waves are good to travel on. Rockets are beautiful to see on the night before the Fourth, but how many people want to travel on them? Swiftiness is not the whole of life, though Americans there be who think it is. There is such a thing as going too fast. After all, it takes time to enjoy life. Most of us, in contemplating Professor Piccard's proposition, will take comfort in a firm incredulity regarding its practicability. And they will feel no sorrow in the opinion that no one is ever going to shoot us across the ocean as one shoots a rifle ball after a deer in the Maine forests."

LUCKY BEAR

When days are cold and snows are deep
The crafty Bruin falls asleep.

And not a thing disturbs his ken
Till brighter skies look down again.

Deep in his lair, secure and warm,
Protected from the raging storm.

Immune to all the stress and strife
That poisons and embitters life.

Through all the winter he is free
From woes that trouble you and me.

No griefs nor cares his slumbers fret,
He has no sorrows to forget.

No crafty human foes to dread
While time is passing o'er his head.

I rather often wish that I Could let these evil days slip by.

And only waken when at last
The evil time has safely passed—

To steep my soul in pleasant dreams
Until a brighter morning gleams.

Not stepping forth beneath the sun,
Till troubled times are past and done.

So I may bid farewell to care.
It must be paid to be a bear.

FUTILITY IN FOREIGN POLICY

It has been a little more than fourteen years since we emerged from the World War.

We enter 1933 after fourteen years of tragic futility in the field of foreign policy.

Just because our own economic recovery is so inextricably bound up with the matter of what our relation to the nations of Europe is to be, it becomes important to restudy the whole problem of our foreign policy.

With the ending of the World War the United States became a world power in the fullest sense of the word.

And since then we have been attempting the impossible: we have been asserting the rights of a world power without accepting the responsibilities of a world power.

And just here lies the rub of our difficulties.

We have been realistic enough to realize that political and economic anarchy in Europe cannot fail to bring complication and collapse to our economic life.

We know that we have a stake in the peace and prosperity of Europe.

Consequently, for the last fourteen years, we have been dipping more and more deeply into European problems.

We want to cash in on our new position as a world power and at the same time hang on to all the benefits of our policy of complete isolation from the politico-economic difficulties of Europe. And from Wilson on through Hoover the record shows that it cannot be done.

We cannot eat our cake and have it.

We presume to pass critical judgment on the ideas that Englishmen, Frenchmen, and Germans have respecting what they must have in the way of arms and treaties to give them security, and yet we persistently refuse to accept any responsibility for alternative policies we prefer.

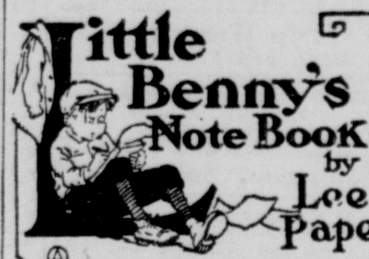

We are quite devoid of realism in our dealing with European problems.

We see Europe through American conditions and American moods, demanding that the French, let us say, should think and act respecting arms and treaties exactly as we think and act as a result of our singularly safe geographical position, and politely but firmly refuse to accept any responsibility for guaranteeing that European peace and stability we must have if our material interests in Europe are to be protected.

We seemingly want to play Messiah to the world without cost to ourselves.

Some day we shall realize that it is impossible to impose American ideas upon Europe unless we are willing to share the cost of their acceptance.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

FRATS

Children love to foregather as their fathers have done before them. As their fathers and mothers do today. There is something rather delightful in gathering with a group of friends and mulling over the business of the hour.

Maybe it's fun, maybe it is work, or the uplift of society, maybe it is just getting together as the horses do in the meadow, to rub noses. It is altogether a human understandable trait, too well known to be questioned. Yet fathers and mothers are likely to look askance at children's society.

"What is the club you are organizing? Nothing in particular means some special mischief I'll be bound. Who's looking after you? No grownup person? Well, I'm not so sure that I want you to belong to it. I'll think it over," and mother thinks it over until the next story of a meeting in the barn loft reaches her ears. Then she orders it all off.

Just as fast as you dissolve one group they form another, and if you let the group alone it will dissolve itself very soon. The limited number of officers works havoc with the organization. When one fellow has been President for a couple of meetings the Outs want to be the Ins and the club breaks up only to meet in another barn, loft or basement playroom and begins all over again.

Scout organizations, Camp Fire Girls, The Kings Daughters, the Christian Endeavor are just the same sort of thing grown dignified. They may not like to hear that but it's true none the less. All organizations, from the Jolly Brothers in the barn to the solemn Elks in the lodge hall have the same basic idea. They are the expression of the human beings need for companionship and social intercourse.

It is better to encourage the children to form their clubs than not. A few children with like interests get together and form a club. They enjoy meeting one another in this spirit of kinship and it is good for them. The only danger about the whole thing is the kind of group that gets together. If they have an unlovely interest in common it is unfortunate that they lend each other support. If they are well intentioned they can only do each other good.

High School Frats are a troublesome problem in the school. I would vote them out. You cannot have two heads in any one activity. The Frat members want to run their own show. That is what a Frat means if it means anything. If they are in the school this cannot be allowed for the basic principle of a school is its common meeting ground. A Frat is selective and at once becomes an opposing force within the school system. Let the young people have their Frats if they choose and let them manage them in their own way. And let them be responsible for what happens. I can see no other way.

I have no fear of the Frats save in the one particular I mentioned. If the group has low ideals and motives the society is dangerous. If it has good ones it is a fine force in the lives of the boys and girls who belong to it.

Adult supervision helps but there is a place beyond which it cannot go and that is the place where it is needed the most. The only sure basis for the Frat and the society and the club is the health of the common purpose. If that is good the Frat can do no harm and it may do good.
